SENATE TOLD OF "PRESSURE"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—Intimidation of certain members of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the lake cargo coal rate case by a political influence emanating from Pennsylvania and running into the White House itself was charged today in the Senate by Senator Reed (Dem.), Missouri.

Asserting that the commission had reversed itself in this case so far as to favor the coal operators of Pennsylvania over those in West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, Senator Reed declared it had rendered a decision "not only revolutionary and unjust," but "probably the most arbitrary yet handed down by a federal board or tribunal."

Charges Coercion

Speaking on the eve of his departure on a stumping tour which is to take him across the continent, the Missouri Democrat said it was "hard to escape the conclusion that the Interstate Commerce Commission reversed itself because it sat under the shadow of the suspended sword of Pennsylvania," wielded by Senator Reed, of that state, who, the Missourian said, "possessed the advantage of long experience and intimate association with the Secretary of the Treasury."

Recalling that only two years ago the commission had refused the petition of the Pennsylvania coal operators for a higher differential in rates on coal to the lake ports and the northwest, the Missouri Senator said then it was that the "political battalion" was called into action, with the Pennsylvania Reed boldly declaring that Pennsylvania should have the representation on the commission which would correct the conditions of which the Pennsylvania operators complained.

"Having lost the case upon its merits in the court," he said, "it was now determined to change the personnel of the court."

The Missourian reminded the Senate that his Pennsylvania cousin had opposed the nomination of Thomas F. Woodlock, of New York, to the commission until he had had assurance from the White House that Pennsylvania would be considered in the next appointment.

Cites Cox Case

"Time ran on," the speaker continued, "but it did not run very long until the articles of the treaty of peace between the Senator from Pennsylvania and the President were put into force.

WHEELER TO DIRECT MINE QUIZ

By International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler (Dem.), of Montana, who headed the famous Daugherty inquiry, will direct the Senate's investigation into conditions in the bituminous coal fields, it was learned today.

Wheeler will be named to a subcommittee of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, which will hold the inquiry. Senator Couzens (Rep.) of Michigan will be named chairman of the sub-committee. The full committee will meet Monday to set a date for opening of hearings. The subcommittee probably will visit the coal fields at Pittsburgh to see conditions at first hand.

Although complete plans have not been worked out as yet the subcommittee will probably spend a few days in Pittsburgh considering various aspects of the bituminous situation before going into the

IF YOU mean to retire with a little rest and leisure before the end DO IT. Don't wait.

Death does not wait, especially if you work beyond the natural time. Eddie Foy, popular actor, 73 years old, was on his way to California "to rest, and end the balance of my life." He thought he would work "just a little longer."

He is dead now, in Kansas City, where he worked literally until he died. Heart disease struck him just after he had left the stage.

AN ATHLETE, breaker of records, with big lungs and chest expansion, was amazed when the life insurance doctor told him "you are a bad risk. We can't take you."

Next to no exercise, the dangerous thing is over-exercise. You can develop muscles almost without limit. But you have only one heart, and it will stand only so much.

IT IS pleasant, for to admire and for to see, for to travel this world so wide. It is a good thing also to remember your birthplace and your own people, convinced that both are the best in the world.

W. H. Genoble has a good permanent job with the railroad at Barstow, here in beautiful California, and likes it. "But," says he, as he takes your baggage checks, "the best state in the Union is South Carolina. I have 132 acres, 12 miles from Spartanburg in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains, and that is where I am going soon to start a dairy farm. Would you have a water pressure tank underground, or on a platform, up in the air? South Carolina has got more water power than any state. It is finer in every way than every other state. If the people knew about it as I do, it would be so crowded you couldn't move around." Such citizens, enthusiasm and loyalty build this nation.

DOG HE TREATED KILLS DOCTOR

Bitten by a dog he was treating three months ago, Dr. George T. Kyle, Greensburg veterinarian, died today in the West Penn Hospital from hydrophobia. His wife, it is said, was bitten by the same dog.

Kyle maintained a kennel at his home in West Pittsburgh street, Greensburg, and usually had from 10 to 20 dogs there for board or for treatment.

The veterinarian paid little attention to the wound made by the dog's teeth, and felt no ill effects from it until about a week ago. Tuesday he was seized with hiccoughs, and when his condition grew worse last night he was taken to the hospital.

Mrs. Kyle was not affected by the dog's bite. The animal which bit them is said to be living.

14 Killed As Tanker Explodes

TOKIO, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—The captain and 13 members of the crew of the American oil tanker Chuky were killed when the vessel exploded.

A trawler arrived here today with 21 survivors of the disaster, which occurred Wednesday as the tanker was en route from San Pedro, Cal., to Japan.

Several of the survivors, who were landed, were injured.

21 SURVIVORS

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—A Lloyds' dispatch from Yokohama says the tanker Chuky was blown up and sank at the approximate position of 33 north longitude, 149 east latitude, or more than 150 miles south of Tokio.

Fifteen of the crew were killed. Twenty-one other members of the crew were saved by fishermen and landed today at Misaka, Japan.

UNDER BRITISH REGISTRY

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Feb. 17.—(AP.)—The oil tanker Chuky left here January 19 for Tsurumi, Japan. At that time she was listed as being operated by the Chile Steamship Company of New York. She is registered under the ownership of the Sheridan Steamship Company of London.

Poison by Mail Kills Two

ALEDO, Ill., Feb. 17.—(AP.)—Postal authorities working on a "mail poison plot" case responsible for the deaths of two Aledo residents are following a trail leading toward Los Angeles or Long Beach, Cal.

Investigation indicated that the plot may have had its inception 18 months ago with the organization of an anti-chicken thief society, in which one of the victims, Mrs. Curtis Lowry, 60, had been active. Maurice Baker, 33, a farmer, the other victim, died on the same date as Mrs. Lowry, February 2, after having taken a sample "flu" medicine sent through the mails.

BRANDS PARK BILL PLOT TO "UNLOAD" ON CITY

The ordinance setting aside $68,000 for property owned by the Riverview Catering Company, is a scheme to have the city take over the holdings of a profitless business, according to Councilman Robert J. Alderdice.

"I'll blow that plan out of water," he promised today. "It's an outrage and I'll expose any effort to pass that ordinance."

The ordinance was introduced some time ago by Councilman Harry A. Little "by request." The plan is to purchase the building, a roadhouse, for use as a shelter house for Riverview Park.

Last year a similar ordinance appeared in Council, but was blocked when the proposal was negatived by Director of Public Works Edward G. Lang. The catering company started business two years ago, but closed before the ordinance was presented last year.

Air Mail Pilot Halts Flight To Awaken 8 in Burning House

By Associated Press. CLEVELAND, Feb. 17.

PAUL COLLINS

A FAMILY of eight probably owe their lives to Paul Collins, air mail pilot, who delayed his flight long enough to swoop over a burning house and rouse its occupants, it was revealed today in a letter to the National Air Transport Lines from a citizen at Clearfield, Pa.

Collins, who has been in the air mail service since 1920, was piloting the night mail plane from Bellefonte, Pa., Feb. 10, the letter said. As he passed over Clearfield at a late hour he saw a blaze and swooped low over the burning building.

The occupants of the house, a husband, wife and six children, were awakened by the roaring motor and leaped from the second floor to the ground when they discovered that flames blocked the stairway. Several suffered slight injuries from the jumps. The house was destroyed.

RENAME PENNINGTON, OUSTER RUMORS DIE

By International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Commander John D. Pennington was today reappointed prohibition administrator for the Western Pennsylvania-West Virginia district with headquarters in Pittsburgh.

This post pays $6,000 annually. Pennington was certified by the Civil Service Commission as high man among the applicants for this post after the examination papers had been studied.

OUSTER RUMOR STILLED

The news of Commander Pennington's success in the Civil Service examinations and of his reappointment as administrator, lays to rest a flood of rumors concerning his fate.

Announcement that more than half of Pennington's agents—as seemed to be the fate of dry agents all over the country—had failed to pass the examinations, led to the linking of the administrator's name with those of his subordinates who had failed. This rumor grew in strength when the Civil Service Commission seemed to delay announcement of Pennington's fate. As time passed with no news, rumors increased in number and density to the effect that he had failed in his examination.

Other rumors were heard that, whether or not he had failed, he had been ousted. Some vague charges were made that influence was being used to try to procure his dismissal.

Pennington himself was out of Pittsburgh today, on an inspection trip. It was said at his office that he did not yet know of his re-appointment.

SENATE PAVES WAY FOR POWER LOBBY PROBE

NORRIS BACKS MOVE ON EVE OF UTILITIES QUIZ

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—As the Federal Trade Commission prepared today to carry out the Senate's mandate to investigate public utilities, a quiet movement for an investigation of the power lobby in the national capital was put under way in the legislative body.

Senator Norris of Nebraska, a Republican insurgent, sponsored this movement, which gained the instant support of a number of senators on both sides of the chamber. They regarded the importance of this inquiry as second only to one of the utilities themselves and said speedy action was imperative.

There still was apparent in the Senate bitterness which characterized the fight which resulted Wednesday night in a Senate vote of 46 to 31 to have the Trade Commission and not the Senate inquire into the financing of electric light and power and gas companies.

In announcing that the Senate resolution would be laid before the commission today, Chairman Humphrey, who was attacked repeatedly during Senate debate on the Walsh resolution, said the investigation would go forward soon.

The commission itself must decide whether it will heed the Senate's admonition to conduct the investigation at public hearings, but it was indicated that three of the five members would vote for an open inquiry with full notice of the time and the place of the hearings.

In the cloak room discussions of the proposed inquiry into the power lobby there were suggestions that the members of the special committee include Wheeler of Montana, who conducted the Daugherty investigation four years ago, and Johnson of California, widely known as a prosecuting attorney.

Greek Church, meeting in the Holy Nativity Chapel in Jerusalem, engage in violent fist fights. Great Britain with the Palestine mandate is criticized for not policing the place more thoroughly.

THE British say they do not want "to complicate their mandate." No wonder. Insert in your prayers a few words of thanks that Uncle Sam was not saddled with any war mandate in the war excitement. He lent ten billion dollars which he won't get back, and got prohibition, which is about all he can manage.

SOME preachers tell President Coolidge it is "not Christlike" to demand a big Navy and preparation for war. The President can reply that other nations did not show any particular "Christ-like" tendencies in the big war, also that when that war came, many clergymen were enthusiastic about the duty to buy bonds and kill Germans.

IF ANOTHER war came and found us unprepared—as it would just now, since we have no flying machine fleet—the clergy would join with 120,000,000 others in asking President Coolidge, "why didn't you get ready?"

THE conference at Havana is about over. And as Mr. Rogers says, Uncle Sam is to be congratulated on going into a conference without losing anything, no battleships scrapped to oblige nations that couldn't afford to compete, no silly promise not to fortify Guam, or do anything without the consent of Britain, France or Japan.

THE Argentine Republic wanted to rewrite the United States tariff, to compete with American farmers. But the Argentine didn't have Balfour as representative, so this country said no. We can handle little republics. Britain is too much for us.

strike area for a first-hand study of the deadlock.

The Indiana Senator is authority for the statement that the inquiry will be a comprehensive and searching one, touching not only general economic conditions in the bituminous industry but also the issuance of labor injunctions by Federal Courts of Pennsylvania.

At the same time considerable attention will be given the coal freight question, despite the fact that the Senate in ordering the investigation voted down 59 to 15 the proposal of Senator David A. Reed of Pittsburgh that this be made an important part of the inquiry. Chairman Watson said it would be impossible to go into the soft coal situation fully without taking the rate question into account.

While it will be at least a week before the schedule of the investigation body is worked out, John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, will in all probability be the first witness called, the committee chairman believes.

Watson said the committee also would likely call as an early witness Miss Fannie Hurst, who made a survey of the strike region recently for The Sun-Telegraph, believing that she may be able to contribute to the store of information sought.

The Senate committee by the resolution is directed to go thoroughly into conditions now existing in the strike-ridden soft coal fields and to probe specifically the following:

"Ascertain whether the railroad companies and their officials have been or are, by agreement or otherwise, endeavoring to depress the labor cost of coal produced by union mine labor; also whether in the said coal fields wage contracts have been abrogated or repudiated; whether defenseless men, women and children, without cause, have been evicted from their homes, and generally what has transpired in the said coal fields and the reasons for conditions and happenings therein.

"And in this connection the said committee or a sub-committee thereof, shall ascertain whether in industrial disputes or strikes in said coal fields injunctions have been issued in violation of constitutional rights, and whether by injunction or otherwise the rights granted by the Constitution of the United States have been abrogated and denied."

The committee is authorized to sit when and where it will; to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and documents, and to incur such expenses as may be necessary for a complete investigation.

vania operators was about to expire.

"He had been a good commissioner. So far as I know, neither his ability nor fidelity had ever been questioned.

"But Pennsylvania had to be taken care of."

The Missourian then told of the appointment of Cyrus E. Woods, of Pennsylvania, to succeed Cox and of the rejection of his nomination by the Senate, because he had been connected with the Pittsburgh coal industry, both as attorney and stockholder.

"Under the circumstances, it would not have been wise to have just then appointed another man like Wood," Reed continued. "So Mr. Brainerd was appointed to fill the seat made vacant by Cox. And be it said to Brainerd's credit, he did not undertake to participate in the decision on rehearing.

"But, nevertheless, the removal of Cox had removed one of the obstacles to the reversal of the case.

Lashes Vote Change

"The term of Commissioner Esch was about to expire.

"His emoluments and honors were, of course, dependent upon reappointment.

"He must have known of the threat of Senator Reed that Pennsylvania proposed to be represented.

"He had doubtless observed that the Senator from Pennsylvania had climbed to the very apex of political power and influence.

"I doubt not that the commissioner often viewed with disconsolate eyes Cox's scalp already suspended from the pole of the Reed tepee. He naturally desired to avoid a similar fate.

"Cox had been removed. And upon rehearing, although the case had been fully tried in the first instance and there had been no change in conditions, Esch and Aitchison changed their votes and rendered a decision fixing the differential at the point demanded by the Pennsylvania interests."

SHOTS FIND 34TH TARGET

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 17.—(INS.) — More mysterious shots, apparently coming from nowhere, the bullets vanishing after striking their targets, was the answer of the phantom sniper to the police challenge of war.

His depredations covered the district from Moorestown to Magnolia. A small black sedan was his mount, according to a bus driver who chased him after the sniper had placed a bullet through his windshield.

Returning home last night, Mrs. Emma Sellers, 29, a widow, and her daughter, Alice, 13, of Bellmawr, N. J., found the sniper had fired a missile through a side window of the house during their absence.

Eli S. Dies, real estate broker of this city, reported the sniper had shot through a rear window of his sedan as he drove near Twelfth and Federal streets.

Walter Booth, of Magnolia Heights, was awakened early today to find a hole drilled through the window of his store an inch and a half wide.

Leon Boscove, a butcher of Magnolia, a half mile distant, also was awakened by the crash of glass. Boscove found a cleanly cut hole about the size of a .30 caliber rifle bullet in his front window. These give the sniper a score of 34 hits since last Thanksgiving Day.

torney James A. Allen, were the only ones so far as is known who received poison capsules. None, except Mrs. Lowry and Baker, used the medicine. Following their deaths, state's attorney Allen ordered an investigation and examination of the vital organs of the deceased, and the contents of the capsules.

The medicine, Attorney Allen said, had been mailed from Kansas City, Kan., although the labels on the boxes indicated it was a product of the Zerbst Pharmaceutical Company of St. Louis, Mo.

"The capsules showed evidence of having been tampered with by someone other than the manufacturers," he said. "The boxes in which they were mailed were intended to hold 25, but in the ones mailed there were but three samples. An investigation for the Zerbst company examined the boxes also and definitely established that the contents of the capsules had been tampered with."

Another theory on which authorities were working was that the poison had been mailed by a crank seeking to damage the reputation of the Zerbst company.

BLIZZARD ON TAP HERE

A cold wave is predicted for tomorrow afternoon and night, with the temperature falling to around 10 degrees.

Blizzard-like conditions in the plains states were spreading eastwardly today, but will not arrive here until this district has felt the sweep of a rainstorm coming up from the Alabama coast.

Rain is probable tonight, changing to snow, Forecaster W. S. Brotzman said.

The cold spell will be of short duration, the forecaster said, Sunday morning marking the low point of the mercury. Temperatures will then start to rise under the influence of milder weather in the far northwest.

The weather here has shown remarkable uniformity for the last several days. The variation in temperature has been only four degrees in the last 60 hours. During this forenoon the mercury was 33 degrees and higher.

HOLDS 13-SPADE BRIDGE HAND BUT DOESN'T KNOW WHAT TO BID

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—A. J. Moran, an Erie Railroad auditor, playing bridge in the club car of a Detroit-to-Washington train last night, held 13 spades and didn't know what to bid. Twenty other bridge fans on the same car dropped their cards and tried to tell him.

The bridge special immediately was thrown into a furore and peace settled down only after Moran, ignoring the advice of his envious but unwelcome guests, bid four spades and cleaned the board.

Those who played with Moran were E. R. Woodson, secretary of the Railway Accounting Offices Association, who opened the bid with one hearts; A. T. Martin, Southern Railway freight official, who bid two diamonds, and T. H. Maxwell, of Baltimore, who called two hearts. Moran had the last bid and all the spades in the deck.

JACKSON FREED OF BRIBERY

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—Ed Jackson, unencumbered, today resumed his duties as Governor of Indiana. He was acquitted yesterday of a charge that he concealed an attempt to bribe former Gov. Warren T. McCray in 1923 to name James E. McDonald as Marion county prosecutor. A jury returned a directed verdict of not guilty.

Special Judge Charles M. McCabe ordered the acquittal when he sustained a defense motion which contended the state failed to prove that Jackson, Robert I. Marsh, local attorney, and George V. Coffin, Marion county Republican chairman, had concealed the alleged bribery by keeping McCray, then Governor, in fear. The statute of limitations of two years, therefore, applied in the case. The indictment was returned last fall.

For a week and a day the Governor was on trial and during that time was able to give state business little of his attention. Occasionally in the morning before court opened and after adjournment at night he would go to the state house to attend to pressing matters.

It was over Gov. Jackson's protest that his attorney filed the motion for acquittal. The Governor said he wanted to put his witnesses on the stand to refute statements of prosecution witnesses, including former Gov. McCray, that he personally had put the alleged bribe before McCray. In a statement the attorneys said Jackson was prevailed upon to do their bidding because of Coffin and Marsh, who are scheduled to be tried later.

DARKSCARF POINTS TO KNOPE

VENTURA, Cal., Feb. 17.—(AP.)—Brought up by the tide and current from Davy Jones' locker, the body of what once was a well-built, athletic man of 30 was being held by authorities here today in an attempt to learn whether it was one of the long-missing Dole fliers.

The body, which obviously had been in the salt water for several months, had but one outward identifying mark—a black taffeta neckerchief like those worn by American sailors. First guesses were that it might be the body of Lieut. Vilas R. Knope, U. S. N., navigator of the ill-fated Dole flight plane Miss Doran.

Knope, the navigator of the Miss Doran was the only Navy man among the seven persons who were lost at sea last August while attempting flights to Hawaii. With Knope were Miss Mildred Doran, Michigan school teacher, and her pilot, John Augie Pedlar.

The body was found on the beach yesterday at Huepeme, Cal. Investigators declared that it tallied in a general way with the description of the missing naval operator.

Gas Blast Blamedon Smoker

An explosion of gas, set off by a tossed match, sent flames shooting 20 feet into the air this morning on a hillside extending from Frazier street to the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad tracks, Oakland.

Julius Fazekes, 19, of 26 Acorn street, alleged to have thrown the match from steps on the hillside after lighting a cigaret, was scorched on the face and hands.

The gas was leaking from an eight-inch main of the Peoples Natural Gas Company. The fire, covering about 30 square feet, burned for several hours before the gas in the main was exhausted.

There are no buildings close to the spot, and firemen kept back the crowds and protected the steps.

Barbara Lee COATS

For Spring

$65.00

The first spring models in Barbara Lee coats will be introduced tomorrow . . . coats noted for being exclusive with Horne's in Pittsburgh, and for their unusualness in quality and style at such moderate price.

Features which will, decidedly, identify coats as of spring 1928, are presented in this collection . . . cape collars, collars in cape and scarf effect; antique ivory and butter-colored furs; remarkable sleeves.

9 Styles for Women
11 Styles for Misses

. . . . Horne's, Second Floor . . . .

High School Considered in Frocks For Junior-Misses

High school, at this season, calls for frocks of lightweight wools, and here is a delightful collection for Miss 13-to-17, at $16.75.

Frocks of kashmir jersey, in the beloved smocked style, or with tailored finish.

Two-piece frocks of wool etamine, a lovely mesh weave, in soft, grayed tones of rose, blue, green and beige.

One-piece and two-piece tailored frocks of featherweight tweed in light-toned mixtures, which will be practical for spring as well as for present wear.

. . . Horne's, Second Floor . . .

Much Variety In Misses' Frocks Of Printed Silks

In prices from $16.75 to $39.50, young women can have choice of a variety of patterns, color combinations, weaves and styles, which should please all seeking printed silk frocks.

They are in scarf patterns, all-over flower and conventional patterns, neat or bold, and in American-Indian prints.

They are of crepe, radium or pussywillow.

In styles there are both one-piece and two-piece models, simple in effect, or with such dressy features as draperies, cape backs, uneven hemlines, and touches of lace.

. . . Horne's, Second Floor . . .

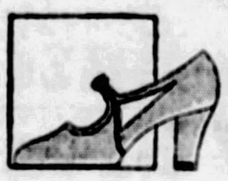
Suede

Is Very Important



Here it is shown in two new spring shoes, in the darker tones of beige.

The tailored shoe at the right, above, with Cuban heel, is of suede in marron shade, with trimming of matching kid.

The other shoe, of dressy type, has quarter and ankle strap of suede, while the rest of it is of rose-beige kid.

Each is priced $12.50.

. . . . Horne's, Second Floor . . . .

Sweater and Skirt Outfits For Miss 1928

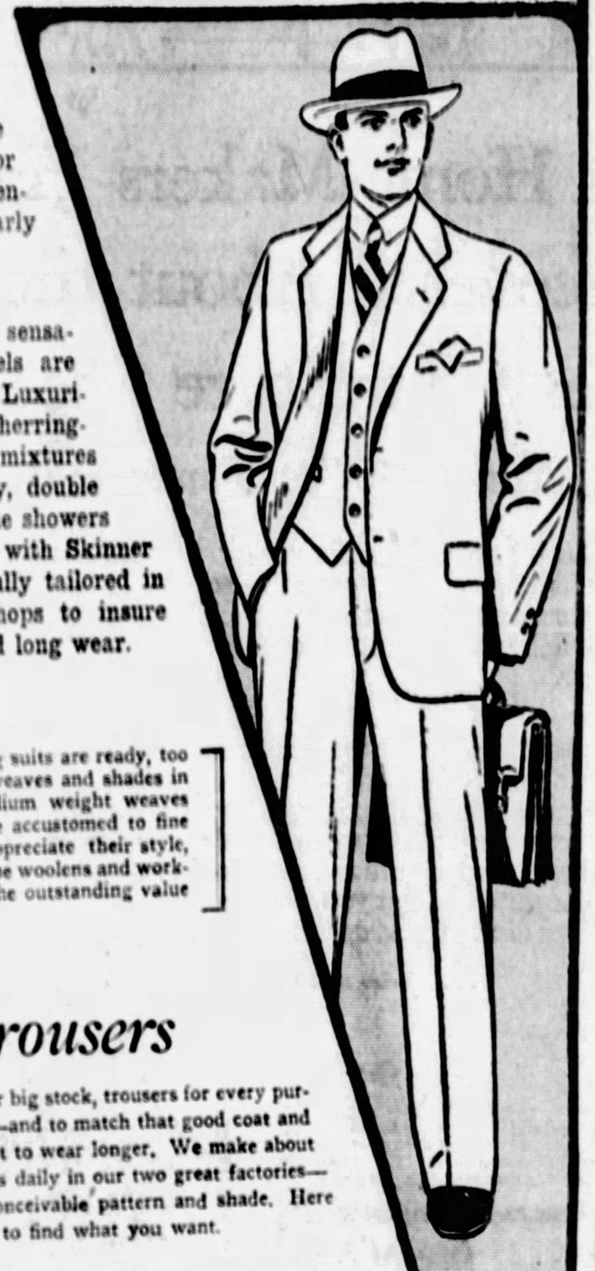
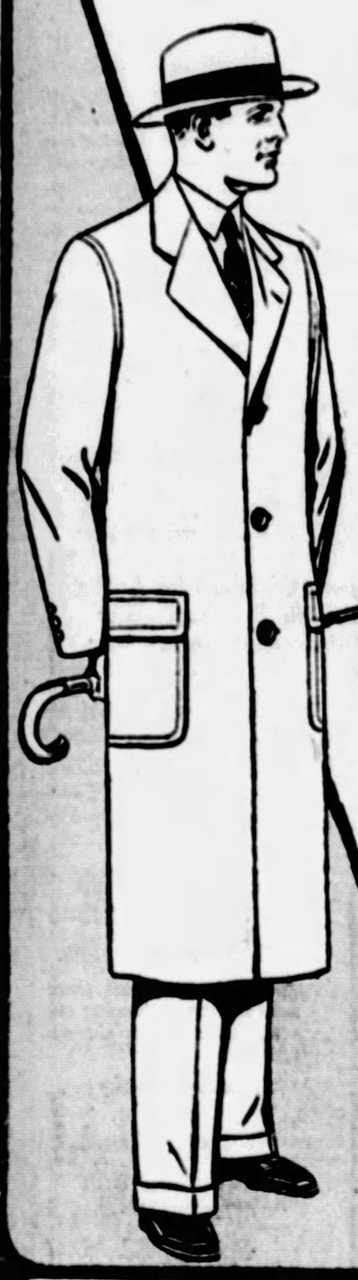
RICHMAN'S CLOTHES



Richman's topcoats are ready—new styles, new weaves, new shades for spring. Forehanded men are buying them for the welcome change they afford on days when warm rain or bright sun make the winter overcoat burdensome. They are just right in weight for early spring wear.

Last fall, Richman's topcoats created a sensation in value-giving—these new models are even finer in quality and workmanship. Luxuriously rich weaves in tweed, plaid and herringbone effects—solid shades and colorful mixtures—soft resilient fabrics of rare quality, double shrunk and weather-proofed to shed the showers—lavishly lined with Skinner satin and carefully tailored in the Richman shops to insure lasting style and long wear.



Our new Spring suits are ready, too—new styles, weaves and shades in seasonable medium weight weaves—men who are accustomed to fine clothes will appreciate their style, the quality of the woolens and workmanship, and the outstanding value they offer.

Trousers

You will find in our big stock, trousers for every purpose and occasion—and to match that good coat and vest you want to wear longer. We make about 4,000 trousers daily in our two great factories—all sizes in every conceivable pattern and shade. Here you are most likely to find what you want.

Your Boy
Don't Let Him Grow Used to Laxatives!

The complete comfort so many adults derive from calcium should turn a parent's thought to its perfect properties for children. A mother who thinks twice—or thinks at all—will not use harsher means of regulating a growing boy or girl!

For the same reason your bowels are benefited by calcium wafers, they are the very thing for a youngster. A tiny wafer or two at first sign of sluggishness—will end it. If the condition has been chronic, this mild corrective will tend to break it up. Calcium wafers will wean a child away from all need for any laxative.

A five-day test will prove to you very conclusively the system's need for calcium, and the decided benefit from these little wafers. Your druggist has them—the test size for pocket is 10c. Or the family size, 60c.

HILL MURDER JURY DISMISSED

DRINKS POISON; HIDES REASON

Attempting suicide in his home early today, police say, Albert Hahn, 50, of 1515 Lowrie street, drank poison and is in a critical condition in the Allegheny General Hospital. He was found by other occupants of the house and was rushed to the hospital in the police patrol from North Side Station. He refused to tell police any reason for his act.

SON SLAYER CRINGES, FEARING NEW SPELL

MERCER, Pa., Feb. 17.—Restful sleep and nourishing food have restored Mrs. Jennie Hall in jail here for the murder of her son in the schoolhouse at No. 5 mine village on Tuesday. Physicians are gratified over her improvement, but another mental attack is feared and she is kept under close guard. The woman expressed herself as resigned to her fate, but lives in dread of another mental collapse.

LONE MAN HOLDS OUT 69 HOURS

By International News Service.

OTTAWA, Ill., Feb. 17.—Sixty-nine hours of hopeless wrangling, arguments and fruitless appeals to one juror who held out on his convictions that Harry Hill, of Streator, Ill., was innocent of the murder of his mother, ended here shortly after 11 a. m. today, when Judge Joseph A. Davis formally dismissed the jury in the presence of the youthful alleged slayer.

Judge Davis intimated that he would call a new trial in a few weeks as soon as his docket is cleared.

The battle of the jury to convict Hill commenced Tuesday afternoon at 1:57 p. m., when the case was given the jurors. Throughout the first night four jurors were staunch in their belief Hill was innocent. Then as hours and days passed all but one juror swung over to the side of the group seeking a conviction and a 14-year prison term. But one juror held out.

JAIL MAN HELD FOR BRIBERY

George Righter, alias Cooper, 31, alleged to have tried to bribe City Detective P. E. Moran to free him following his arrest on a suspicious person charge February 7, was remanded to jail today by court, which refused to free Righter on habeas corpus proceedings.

Righter was arrested, with Freemont C. Redfield, alias Montgomery, in their room, 260 South Mathilda street. Redfield, wanted in Philadelphia on charge of deserting his family, was turned over to a Philadelphia officer yesterday.

AUTO CLUB TO AID IN REPORTING ACCIDENTS

Motorists can learn how to make out police accident reports at headquarters of the Pittsburgh Motor Club, William Penn Hotel, it was announced today by C. H. Roth, secretary.

Automobile owners are required to report to police following an accident involving more than $50 damage, and many drivers have been reluctant to go to a police station, thus laying themselves open to prosecution for violation of the new state automobile code. The motor club establishes this accident service with the sanction of the city department of public safety.

ORDERS CHARTER FOR SLOVAK SOCIAL CLUB

Judge Richard W. Martin has signed a preliminary order for the granting of a charter to the Slovak Social Club of East Pittsburgh, on application of Attorney H. M. Jones.

HIS "RULES" LOSE BRIDE AT ALTAR

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Feb. 17.—(AP.)—Because he laid down 10 rules of conduct for his prospective bride as they stood before the church altar, Nick Masciarelli is still a bachelor.

Nick chose the last minute to tell Miss Rosie Devesky what would be expected of her after she became his wife. Hearing the last of the 10 rules, Rose cast away her bridal veil, hurled her corsage of flowers at Nick and stormed out of the church.

Rosie, in the opinion of the would-be groom, should be prepared to wash all the dishes, have meals ready on time, should not walk the streets at night and avoid looking at other men. There were other rules less important.

And now Nick is trying to get his money back for the marriage license.

"This is a lesson to those who would get married," said Nick. "Always explain just what you are going to require of your wife before buying the license."

KETCHEL HELD IN DAD'S DEATH

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 17.—(INS.)—John Ketchel, brother of Stanley Ketchel, middleweight champion, who was slain several years ago, was under arrest today in connection with the death of his father, Thomas Ketchel, 74 years old, found dead in his barn here yesterday.

The elder Ketchel was found on the floor of the barn. His throat had been cut, but no weapon was found.

The Ketchel farm was a gift of Stanley to his mother in 1909, shortly after he won the middleweight championship.

BELLEVUE KICKS AT GAS STATION

Bellevue residents of the High Bridge district attended a public hearing of the borough council last night and protested against a proposed amendment in the zoning law that would permit erection of a gasoline station on a plot at the Bellevue end of the bridge.

The proposed change in the zoning classification of the plot from residential to commercial has been rejected several times by the zoning board of appeals, but the council has passed the amending ordinance on second reading which would nullify the zoning board's action. Final action on the amending measure will be taken by council March 6.

ASKS $10,000 FOR 2 TEETH

The importance of teeth to the professional actor is set forth by Otis Francis of New York, an actor, in his bill of complaint in a $10,000 damage suit he filed yesterday in the Federal District Court against Mark Browar, manager of the Kenyon Theater, 819 Federal street, whom he accuses of striking him in the mouth without provocation, knocking out two teeth and loosening two others.

The plaintiff avers that his teeth have "been a necessary and important adjunct in his profession as an actor." The alleged attack occurred back stage February 7, according to Attorney J. Howard Devlin, who is representing Francis.

RELIANCE LIFE EMPLOYES DINE

More than 200 members of the Reliance Life Employes' Association attended a dinner and vaudeville performance last night in the Chamber of Commerce dining room. The entertainment program, given by employes, was arranged by Harvey Heibling, president of the association, and Jack Huebner, with Bert Mansmann as master of the ceremonies.

On the program were a quartet, composed of Henry Gill, Edward Karl, Henry Grab and Edward Wycoff; songs by Alfonso C. Tragessor, Miss Hazel Lau and Stanley Baird; monologs by Robert Bernstein and David Richards; dances by Miss Nina Speicher; a sketch by Miss Mary Ryan, James Royston, Thomas Friday and David Atwell; a chalk talk by Norman L. Klages; a harmonica band, composed of John Ruth, Joseph Becker and John Howell, and a sketch by Miss Virginia Klages and William Plough.

BRADDOCK WAR FLARES UP

BURGESS "FIRES" 2 POLICEMEN

Braddock's political warfare, centering around the police force, broke out afresh last night when Burgess William L. Callahan suspended Chief of Police Fred Seim and Lieut. Michael Pipko.

The two officers were appointed to their positions at the first of the year, along with the sergeants and the ordinance officer, by Council at a meeting to which two members were escorted by police. The law-making body, said to be divided into two factions of six members each, met with only half the members, all of one faction.

Waiting until midnight for the absent members, the body was given a quorum when police brought in Councilmen John Hand and Alfred Askin.

Since that meeting, Burgess Callahan has not issued pay checks to either Seim or Pipko, on the grounds that Council exceeded its authority in appointing them. In retaliation, all police officers have taken their cases before the borough's two justice of the peace instead of the burgess.

The burgess, as a result, has received no income from his post. He receives no salary, but is paid $3.25 for each case tried before him. An average of 225 arrests are made each month in Braddock, so it is figured that Callahan had been deprived of more than $700.

Further action by Council is expected next Monday night, when a regular meeting will be held.

HOLDS UP 2 IN 5 MINUTES

Two holdups, staged within five minutes on the North Side last night, are attributed by police to the same bandit. The description of the lone thug in each robbery is identical.

Frank Steinmetz, of 2028 Hopestead street, was the first victim. He was robbed of $55 at East General Robinson and Sandusky streets. The bandit pulled his auto to the curb, covering his victim with a revolver, as he rifled his pockets.

It is believed the thug then sped to the Star Service Station, 915 East Ohio street, where he robbed John Radcliff, an attendant, of $45.

Jacob Finkelstein, of Ballon & Finkelstein, butchers, 1712 Wylie avenue, was robbed of $250 by two Negro bandits, who entered the shop last night. One of the Negroes covered him with a revolver, while the other scooped up the contents of the cash register. Police were furnished with a description of the pair.

DUQUESNE AID TEAM TO GIVE DEMONSTRATION

The first aid team of the Duquesne Light Company will give a demonstration tonight at 8 o'clock for the benefit of the nurses of St. Francis Hospital. The team, composed of C. I. Renz, C. C. Malley, J. P. Witt, J. Fisher, Edward Martin and A. R. Spurrier, will show how persons are resuscitated by the prone pressure method, and will give other demonstrations of methods employed in the saving of lives.

GAS STATION HOLDUP SUSPECT BEING HELD

Arthur Cloey, 25, of Gratstown, Pa., who, police believe, is responsible for numerous gas station holdups here, was arrested early today at Ohio and Federal streets. He is being held in the North Side Police Station pending a checkup on his movements. He was stopped by two police officers, who questioned him, and was taken into custody when he failed to give an account of himself.

HURT IN BLAST, ASKS $25,000

Entering the basement of an apartment house at 325 Melwood street to determine why the hot water supply had been shut off, Mrs. Edna Day was burned seriously when the water heater exploded, she charged in a suit filed in Common Pleas Court yesterday, in which she seeks $25,000 damages from Morris Mayerstein, owner of the apartment. The Day woman was employed by a tenant in the apartment. The accident occurred in December.

CARNEGIE WORKER, HIT ON HEAD BY BEAM, DIES

Michael Miskovich, 45, of 1419 Green Springs avenue Munhall, injured in the Carnegie Steel Company's new Homestead plant Tuesday when a beam struck him on the head, died today of a fractured skull in West Penn Hospital.

RICHMANS PLAN ADDITION TO FACTORY

CLEVELAND, Feb. 17.—Construction on a new five-story building to be added to the present main factory of Richman Brothers will be started at once, it was announced Wednesday following a meeting of the stockholders late Tuesday, at which time plans for the new unit were made known.

The new building will be erected in Luther avenue close to the present factory at 1690 E. 55th st., to which it will be joined by two cross wings. It will increase the factory floor space by 200,000 square feet, and will mean a considerable increase in the number of employees now engaged by the clothing manufacturers.

WILL ENLARGE FIELDS

Prior to the opening of the new addition, which is planned to provide factory space for a 60 per cent increase in business, Richman Brothers stores will be opened in Grand Rapids, Mich., Fort Wayne, Ind., Columbus, O., and Wheeling, W. Va., while a new and larger store is to be placed in Mansfield, O. Plans are being made also to open retail stores in Chicago, Detroit and New York.

William Schwane, former assistant treasurer; Harold L. Brown, former assistant secretary, and August Benson, designer, were made vice presidents at the stockholders' meeting, while F. C. Lewman was elected senior vice president and general manager.

All other officers and directors were re-elected.

EARNINGS INCREASE

Net earnings for 1927 were reported to be $3,276,227.66 after all charges, the highest earnings in the history of the company. This is equivalent to $16.56 a share on 197,741 shares compared with $2,890,022, or 14.62 a share, on the stock outstanding in 1926.

The balance sheet revealed total current assets of $7,363,583.29 with current liabilities of $769,434.31.

Henry Richman announced that the stock of Richman Brothers is held by more than 3,000 stockholders. The employes alone own over $6,000,000 of the company's stock.

PAROLE WOMAN CONSPIRATOR

Mrs. Anna Csaszer, 57, of Sharpsville, convicted yesterday in the Federal District Court, of conspiring with Perry Hood, 25, a Hindu, of Montreal, Can., and John Kovach, 17, of Sharpsville, to smuggle her brother, Gabor Barath, a Hungarian, into the United States from Canada, was placed under a two-year parole by Judge F. P. Schoonmaker. The jury had recommended extreme mercy.

Hood, who, with Kovach, had pleaded guilty and testified as a government witness against the woman, was sentenced to four months in jail, and Kovack was placed under a four-year parole, with George O'Brien as probation officer.

Hood and Kovach became acquainted, the court was told, when they met in the Warren (Pa.) jail. Hood, who says he is a commercial artist and graduate of McGill University, Montreal, had been lodged there as a suspicious person and Kovack for stealing a ride on a freight car.

NO CLUE FOUND TO BAD MONEY PASSER

Scrutiny of scores of photographs in the Bertillion room of the City Detective Bureau by Secret Service operatives of the United States Department of Justice has failed to cast any light on the identity of a fugitive who is being sought for passing spurious $20 bills in the Pittsburgh district.

The Federal agents went to the Bertillion quarters yesterday accompanied by A. L. Brawdy, a druggist of 1942 Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg, who recently accepted one of the fictitious bills. None of the Bertillion pictures bore close resemblance to the fugitive. Within the last week about six reports have been received by the Secret Service operatives that bogus $20 bills have been passed here.

The man sought bears the same description in each case. He is described as being of middle age and unusually well dressed.

JAIL 1, FINE 17 DRY VIOLATORS

J. W. Miller of Reserve township, convicted last week in the Federal District Court for unlawful possession of 35 gallons of alcohol, 65 gallons of moonshine whisky, and 115 quarts of assorted liquors, yesterday was fined $500 by Judge F. P. Schoonmaker. Charles Olesky and Jerry Lackiewiz, who confessed violating the prohibition law, were placed under parole for three years each, in custody of Federal Probation Officer George O'Brien.

Other defendants in liquor cases entering pleas to complaints, were fined as follows: Joe Frazzo and Anton Perri, $500 each; E. L. McDermott, $400; Jesse Adler, $250; Thomas McManus, $200; John Manalo, $150; Robert Barker, William J. McGinnis and George McDowell, $100 each; Emmett McManus, John Singl, John Sarokes, Andrew Silvony, William Kurash and James J. Mahan, $50 each.

MAN VICTIM OF 'HIT-RUN' AUTO

Thomas Powers, 40, of Lawrence avenue, was injured this morning when struck by a "hit-run" motorist in Hamilton avenue near Homewood avenue. He was taken to the Pittsburgh Hospital, where it was said he had suffered body bruises and lacerations.

EAST DEER TWP. VOTE CHANGE DENIED

Charges that ballots were changed after election so that a recount ousted the elected officials and a retraction of the charges on the stand were heard yesterday by Judge Ambrose B. Reid in Quarter Sessions Court during a hearing of a contest in East Deer township.

Election of three commissioners in the First Ward of the township, James Fenner, Frank Holsher and John E. Hill, as Independent Citizens candidates, winning on the returns at the November election, and being ousted by the court after a recount in favor of Joseph Brim, Tony Vala and Tony Altman, Republican candidates.

Mrs. Pauline Patz and her husband, August Patz, of 7 Creighton road, Creighton, declared in statements made in the District Attorney's office January 26 that they had assisted Justice of the Peace John J. Gill of Creighton in changing ballots in his home November 19 while the box was in his custody, according to their testimony yesterday. Both repudiated the statements when called as witnesses.

More than 20 voters of the township were called to testify they had voted the straight Citizens ticket, with more to be called today.

STILL OWNER FINED $500

Anton Perri, an Italian, was fined $500 yesterday by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker for violating the national prohibition law. The morning of January 22, 1927, while prohibition agents were dismantling a moonshine distillery at 2020 Perrysville avenue, Perri entered the house with a front door key. He received a cheery "good morning" from the raiders before being asked to explain his presence. Perri said he merely had come in to turn down the gas under the still for a friend. Nevertheless he was arrested, and yesterday he pleaded guilty to manufacturing moonshine whisky.

ART EXHIBIT DRAWS RECORD ATTENDANCE

The first week's attendance at the eighteenth annual display of the Associated Artists of Pittsburgh, at Carnegie Institute Art Galleries, has broken all records, it was announced yesterday. The exhibit opened February 10, and will close March 4. Thirteen pictures already have been sold, including several by John Kane. Much interest is centered in the work of Everett Warner, an art instructor at Carnegie Institute of Technology.

The Plays and Players — The Stage and Screen — THE PITTSBURGH SUN-TELEGRAPH

Bessie Love Plans Debut on Legitimate Stage in March; Mae Busch to Try Vaudeville

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS,
Motion Picture Editor of Universal Service

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.

BESSIE LOVE makes her debut as a stage actress in "Burlesque," March 2. There, we've spilled all of Bessie's big news in one burst. The show opens in San Francisco. Bessie never has had a day's stage experience before. She says all her life she has dreamed that some day, somehow, she would get a chance to emote before the footlights. But that chance never came until Lillian Albertson engaged her to play the part of the little stock girl in "Burlesque," which has been one of New York's most successful stage plays.

There is always a welcome in vaudeville for motion picture actresses who have scored any sort of a success in the movies. Mae Busch, pioneer actress and one of the best known film players in Hollywood, is taking advantage of her screen reputation to capitalize it in vaudeville. Miss Busch is luckier than most of these actresses who start out in the two-a-day, for she has a vehicle written specially for her by Adela Rogers St. Johns.

The genial Emil Jannings and his popular wife, Gussie, have rented the Joseph Schenck home on Hollywood boulevard. Norma Talmadge Schenck, who has lamented for a long time that a big house is too much trouble to run, has leased her house—one of the show places in Hollywood—for a year. The Jannings were glad to get it, too. With Mr. Jannings' daughter arriving here next week they needed a larger house. The renting of the Schenck home and the arrival of Miss Jannings indicates that Gussie and Emil are to remain in our midst indefinitely.

Babies in Hollywood seldom interfere with a career. Here we have Eleanor Boardman, whose daughter was born a few months ago, returning to the screen at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. Eleanor makes her first appearance in "Diamond Handcuffs," to be directed by John McCarthy. Conrad Nagal, who has been visiting at Warner Brothers' Studio, making pictures for the last few months, also stages a return appearance at the M. G. M. He plays the male lead opposite Miss Boardman.

Broadway will see John Barrymore again. The actor who came to Hollywood and liked it so well that he hasn't even returned East for one glimpse of his old home town is going to New York in two weeks. He has an interesting offer from one of the big theatrical producers. The perennial report that he and his wife, Michael Strange, have agreed to finally take their trouble to a divorce court, is again revived. You can't get Mr. Barrymore, of course, to admit this is true. But some of his friends say that while he is in New York it would not surprise them if he decided to make his separation a legal one. There is talk, if this happens, that a beautiful young film star may be the next Mrs. Barrymore.

EMERSON'S NEPHEW IS IN "THE ENEMY"

Another famous name has come into motion pictures with the completion of Lillian Gish's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, "The Enemy", coming February 20 to the Penn. It is that of Ralph Waldo Emerson, who plays the role of Bruce, one of Miss Gish's suitors in the picture, is a great-nephew of the celebrated man of letters and was named after him. Both of Miss Gish's suitors in the picture are named Ralph—Ralph Forbes, leading man, and Emerson, his friend in the story. The picture is a vivid drama of Austria, adapted from Channing Pollock's noted Stage play, and directed by Fred Niblo, with a cast that includes George Fawcett, Frank Currier, Karl Dane, Polly Moran, John Peters, Billy Kent Schafer, Fritzi Ridgeway and others.

Belasco Offers Miss Ulric in "Lulu Belle"

David Belasco is sending Lenore Ulric in "Lulu Belle," supported by a company of more than 60 persons, to the Nixon, beginning Monday evening, February 20. Pittsburgh is the first city outside of New York and Chicago to see this attraction.

"Oh Kay," with a cast headed by Julia Sanderson and Frank Crumet, will be presented in Alvin Theater all next week, playing matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

"Broadway," the night club melodrama, will be seen in the Pitt for an engagement beginning next Monday night, with Thursday and Saturday matinees.

The California Collegians are coming to the Davis next week as a part of the Harry Carroll unit, presented as the vaudeville program.

Thomas Meighan To Appear In Sea Film

A melodramatic sea story, an original yarn of rum-runners and hi-jackers, has been chosen as Thomas Meighan's first starring vehicle for the Caddo Company.

Lewis Milestone, youthful director under contract to Caddo, and slated to direct the next Meighan opus, will writ, his own story, in collaboration with Howard Emmett Rogers.

Meighan as just returned to the film capital from an extended vacation in Florida and New York.

WHITEMAN AND BAND COMING TO SANDERS

The management at Sanders, Aspinwall, announces that it already has received many reservations for Saturday night, February 25, when Paul Whiteman and members of his recording orchestra will appear in person. "Skin" Young and Charlie Gaylord also will appear in person with the Whiteman orchestra.

The Student Vagabonds' Orchestra plays its fourth engagement at Sanders tomorrow night.

STANLEY HEAD VISITS HERE

Yesterday marked the first visit of Irving D. Rossheim, president of the Stanley Company of America, to Pittsburgh since his election to that office some three weeks ago. The forthcoming opening of the new Stanley Theater at Seventh street and Liberty avenue necessitated the visit.

Mr. Rossheim, who is the head of 257 theaters, most of them in Pennsylvania, expressed great satisfaction of the work done by the architects and builders of the new theater and the Clark Building, which is the other unit in this $10,000,000 development.

It was learned from Mr. Rossheim that the Stanley Company practically had its inception through the influence of a noted Pittsburgh showman, Harry Dalvs. Many years ago Mr. Davis, while operating theaters in Philadelphia, secured for a partner the late Jules Mastbaum, who later, after buying out Mr. Davis, organized the Stanley Company of America.

Through business foresight this company gradually became one of the outstanding theater operating companies of the country.

The opening date of the new Stanley has not been announced as yet, but Mr. Rossheim said yesterday it would be in the very near future.

RADICAL ELEMENT FOUND ACTIVE IN COAL STRIKE

UNION BULWARK AGAINST REDS

"The United Mine Workers' organization," Philip Murray, international vice president, recently declared, "stands as a bulwark between the American people and Bolshevism."

And Patrick T. Fagan, president of District No. 5 of the United Mine Workers, recently refused to intercede in behalf of two solicitors for the Pennsylvania - Ohio - Colorado Miners' Relief Committee who were arrested for violation of a city ordinance and fined by Magistrate A. D. Brandon, because, Fagan said, they were Bolsheviks.

An investigation of these charges has disclosed that several organizations in Pittsburgh which are deeply interested in the coal strike and are aiding the strikers are radical in their tendencies and either directly or indirectly are seeking to establish Communist government. They are more or less openly in sympathy with the Industrial Workers of the World, with the radical group led by W. Z. Foster and with the Soviet administration in Russia. Their "literature" contains many hostile references to the United States government, and they maintain a friendly attitude toward persons accused of sedition.

As the strike continues the radical organizations are becoming bolder and bolder and apparently are increasing in strength.

The largest of these organizations is the Pennsylvania-Ohio Miners' Relief Committee, with offices in rooms 207, 208 and 214 Lyceum Building and a storage warehouse at 4208 Penn avenue. It is not to be confused with the Pennsylvania-Ohio-Colorado Miners' Relief Committee, which, though closely affiliated, is quartered in room 807 McCleagh Building and has different officers and personnel.

The Pennsylvania-Ohio Miners' Relief Committee was organized on July 1, 1927, at a meeting in Walton Hall, Stanwix street, by delegates from 34 local unions of the United Mine Workers in the Pittsburgh district which are not in sympathy with the policies of Murray and Fagan. The committee lays claim to having the adhesion of about 100 local unions at the present time.

The Pennsylvania-Ohio committee's platform, as outlined by Alfred Wagenknecht, director of its relief campaign, and indorsed by Anthony Minerich, its chairman, who stood by during the conversation, is as follows:

The committee is opposed to the present administration of the United Mine Workers because it is held that the international officers blundered in failing to unionize the southern fields before the expiration of the Jacksonville wage agreement on March 31, 1927.

WANT NATIONAL CONTROL

The committee maintains that wage agreements between operators and miners should be made on a national basis, and not by the various districts independently. While the Pennsylvania and Ohio districts are on strike the Indiana and Illinois districts are working, which the relief committee holds is wrong.

The committee advocates nationalization of the mines and blames John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers, and his colleagues for not conducting vigorous propaganda in favor of this project, to which the union committed itself some years ago, but toward which the present administration is not friendly.

The committee urges a militant, aggressive strike, with mass picketing and disregard of injunctions. Its chairman, Minerich, was recently arrested by state police while addressing a meeting of miners in Washington County for saying, "To hell with injunctions!"

The committee calls for a five-day week and a six-hour day in the mines, asserting that thus work would be provided for all.

It wants the workers to engage in political action and has been interested in the formation of a Labor party here. The policy of the American Federation of Labor is not to engage in politics directly, but to work through the Republican and Democratic parties, supporting the friends of organized labor, and opposing its enemies among the candidates of those parties.

HAS PRESS BUREAU

The Pennsylvania - Ohio miners' relief committee maintains an active press bureau under charge of T. J. O'Flaherty, which issues columns of news almost every day. In a lurid account of a recent disturbance at Coverdale, O'Flaherty says, in one of his mimeographed sheets:

"The Coverdale strikers are receiving relief from the Pennsylvania-Ohio miners' relief committee, which, in addition to giving relief, urges the miners to fight to save the union by mass picketing and the violation of all strike-breaking injunctions."

Hostility to the government is indicated in the most widely distributed of the committee's posters, in which these words appear:

"Coolidge came to Pittsburgh, right into the heart of the struggle, and didn't say a word about it. But his federal judge and his United States Supreme Court did speak. Union-smashing injunctions have legalized evictions, made picketing illegal, organizing impossible. That's where the government stands!"

Besides Minerich, the officers of the Pennsylvania-Ohio miners' relief committee are: Vice chairman, Ignatz Perme; secretary-treasurer, Vincent Kemenovich; executive committee, Louis Carboni, Cooper Kutz, Steve Paich, Fred Siders and Milan Sjever.

GIVEN SUPPORT

The committee collects funds from many sources. Students' committees at various colleges, Finnish, Polish, Lithuanian, Magyar and Serbian clubs in a number of cities, and also local unions of several trades are aiding it. One of its big sources of supply is the emergency committee for strikers' relief in New York City, of which Norman Thomas is chairman, Susanna Paxton executive secretary and the following members: Harriet Stanton Blatch, Susan Brandeis, the Rev. Edmund B. Chaffe, Stuart Chase, Herbert Croly, John Dos Passos, Mary Dreier, Sherwood Eddy, Homer Folks, Arthur Garfield Hays, Paxton Hibben, John Haynes Holmes, the Rev. Paul Jones, Florence Kelly, Dr. Gertrude B. Kelly, Paul U. Kellogg, E. C. Lindeman, Amos Pinchot, John Nevin Sayre, Samuel Untermyer, Oswald Garrison Villard and Mrs. Stephen S. Wise.

The officers of the Pennsylvania-Ohio-Colorado Miners' Relief Committee are: Chairman, Louis Cohen; secretary, Fred Carreno; treasurer, Alexander Portanoy; executive committee, Max Jenkins, James Siljander, George Tolly, Frank Sarcone, Joseph Kashkikawkus, Celia Paransky and W. C. Francis.

The committee's radical leanings are indicated by its support of the Colorado coal miners' strike, which is being conducted not by the United Mine Workers but by a hostile organization, the Industrial Workers of the World. The I. W. W. favors "one big union" of all the crafts, with its implication of a general strike whenever workers of any kind wish to enforce their demands against their employers.

RED LITERATURE SOLD

The Pennsylvania-Ohio-Colorado Miners' Relief Committee recently stood sponsor for a meeting held at the International Socialist Lyceum, James street, North Side, a hotbed of radicalism, where W. Z. Foster's books and others of a revolutionary cast are sold. Carreno issued the call for the meeting, at which the principal speakers were Embree, an I. W. W. organizer, and two members of the organization from the Colorado coal fields, "Flaming Mika" Sabich, who had just been released from prison, and Blanche Unwin.

Other speakers were Powers Hapgood, Minerich, chairman of the Pennsylvania-Ohio Miners' Relief Committee, and Pat Toohey, an insurgent against the regime at present in power in the United Mine Workers of America, is conducting his activities from an office in the Dollar Savings and Trust Building, 324 Federal street, North Side. With the assistance of John Brophy, formerly president of District No. 2, United Mine Workers of America, Toohey is getting out a radical newspaper called "The Coal Digger," through which he is fighting the Lewis-Murray-Fagan administration.

IN RUSSIA RECENTLY

Brophy, who lives at 700 Armandale street, North Side, and who is active in the new Labor College on Duquesne way, has the reputation of being a radical. He was in Russia recently and advocates the recognition of the Bolshevik regime by the United States government. At a meeting of trade unionists held in the North Side Carnegie Hall on February 5 he presented a resolution urging such a course, and it was adopted.

Sharing offices with the Pennsylvania-Ohio-Colorado miners' relief committee, and apparently co-operating with it, is the International Labor Defense Association, of which W. J. White is local secretary. It is affiliated with the American Civil Liberties Union. White said the Labor Defense Association was urging the striking coal miners to engage in mass picketing and violate the injunctions issued against their activities by various courts. The association, he continued, undertook the legal defense of strikers. He presented a long list of cases for which it has provided counsel, and it developed on investigation that not a few of the defendants are charged with sedition.

AGENTS NAB 2 AFTER CHASE

Speed brought victory to two prohibition agents in the Hill district today.

When the agents came upon an auto truck loaded with 90 gallons of moonshine, at Fullerton and Clark streets, two men left the truck and sped down Fullerton street.

The agents captured them after a race of two blocks. The men said they were Peter Manfredo, 32, and Salvatore Catilonge, 28.

The irrevocable determination of P. J. Sullivan, county assessor and Sixth Ward leader, to seek the seat of Congressman John M. Morin and the presentation of Charles A. Waters, of Philadelphia, Secretary of Labor and Industry of Pennsylvania, as Republican candidate for Auditor General, were political features of a testimonial dinner at the William Penn Hotel last night in honor of Dr. Charles B. Quailey, new alderman of the Fourth Ward.

The 1,200 diners constituted a gathering of imposing political strength, including most leaders of the city and many from the county.

"There has been some doubt about my candidacy," Sullivan declared. "Some of my friends are a little dubious, wondering whether I'll be taken out of the fight. There is no chance of that. I will be a candidate until the end, win, lose or draw."

Harmony in the state has been imperiled by the Sullivan candidacy, with Morin, a Vare leader, threatened as a candidate against United States Senator David A. Reed. Sullivan defended the "Strip" against political odium cast upon it. He said:

"It is said we weigh our votes, but the Committee of Seventy of Philadelphia could find no discrepancies in our ballots. The 'Strip' has more churchgoers than any proportionate part of Pennsylvania."

Secretary Waters, 36-year-old Philadelphia lawyer, was presented as the best Secretary of Labor and Industry Pennsylvania has had and an outstanding member of Governor Fisher's cabinet.

Roy D. Schooley, toastmaster, was presented by John A. Freyvogel, general chairman. Among the speakers were County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong, Mayor Charles H. Kline, Secretary Waters, Alderman Sullivan, State Senator James J. Coyne, Dr. Quailey, the Rev. James M. Delaney, pastor of St. Agnes Church; Councilman P. J. McArdle and Dr. Stewart L. McCurdy.

Dr. Thomas V. Holleran presented to Dr. Quailey, "his mentor and friend," a diamond ring. Both were star halfbacks at Pitt. The invocation was by the Rev. Joseph T. Byrne, of St. Paul's Cathedral, and the benediction by Rev. G. W. Kaufman, pastor of Central Chapel.

BUTLER GLASS WORKERS VOTE TO END STRIKE

BUTLER, Pa., Feb. 17.—Five hundred employes of the Butler plant of the Standard Plate Glass Company, on strike since last November 15, voted last night to return to work on an agreement that a reduction of 7½ per cent shall be effective on wages of 40 cents and upward an hour, and 5 per cent on wages below 40 cents an hour. This is one-half the reduction made operative by the company in November.

LENGEL SCORES AS 'LIFER' SEALS LIPS AT TRIAL

LISBON, O., Feb. 17.—Called as a star witness for the state, Floyd Streitenberger, "lifer" at Ohio State Penitentiary, proved a "dud" in the second trial here of S. A. Lengel, former Canton (O.) police chief, charged with first degree murder in connection with the slaying of Don R. Mellett, Canton newspaper publisher.

"I refuse to answer," was the only statement Streitenberger, who is serving a life term for his part in the Mellett slaying, would utter in response to questions by Prosecuting Attorney Henry W. Harter, Jr.

The prosecuter read portions of Streitenberger's testimony at Lengel's first trial, but when the witness refused to answer the court told the jury the record could not be considered as evidence.

Lengel, 63, is being retried on a change of venue after having been convicted of first-degree murder and sentenced to life imprisonment in the first trial.

THE DIVORCE MILL

BLACKED HER EYES

Just because she asked her husband to carry meat to the dog, Mrs. Mary E. Kurtz nursed two black eyes for four weeks, she told Judge Richard W. Martin, who heard her divorce case presented by Attorney Coleman Harrison. Mrs. Kurtz who lives in Elm street, Castle Shannon, is 56.

BACK SEAT DRIVER

Married life didn't mean a thing to her husband, Mrs. Mamie W. Frape, proprietress of a restaurant at 2115 Penn avenue, told Judge Richard W. Martin yesterday in asking a divorce from Henry Frape. Once when out driving, she told her counsel, W. J. Graham, Mrs. Frape requested her husband not to try passing everything on the road. He called her a back seat driver, she said, speeding up the car which later rolled over an embankment. Mrs. Frape went to a hospital with an injured spine. Some time afterward, she charged, Frape tried to wreck her restaurant.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

U.S. Senator from New York

Treating Arthritis From Three Angles

MY mail is filled with letters from persons who suffer from arthritis. They are eager to learn what can be done to relieve their sufferings.

This trouble is sometimes called "rheumatoid arthritis." It is an inflammation of the joints, producing stiffness and pains like rheumatism.

DR COPELAND

Women between the ages of 30 and 45 are most commonly the ones to be afflicted. Of course it can come at any age, and men, as well as women are attacked by it.

The other day I talked with an eminent physician, one of the clinical staff of a famous hospital. It so happened that a reader of this column had just written me about what had been accomplished in that institute for the relief of her husband. She was so enthusiastic that I, too, was keen to be told the details of the treatment employed there for cases of arthritis.

If you or yours is the victim of arthritis this report will be of interest. It sums up the present methods of treatment.

My friend told me that in handling these patients three things are kept in mind. They are the medical, the physical and the educational aspects of the problem.

On the medical side, careful attention is given to the discovery of a possible focus of infection. The teeth, tonsils and nasal sinuses are carefully examined. The prostate gland in men and the neck of the womb in women, may be the seat of infection. In every case the gall bladder is studied to see if it is the offending organ. Constipation is corrected.

A great deal of attention has been given in very recent years to the effects of "foreign proteins" upon the system. Various serums have been employed with a view to exciting reaction in the inflamed tissues. This first effect may be followed by lessening of the localized inflammation. Your doctor will tell you about this.

The particular substances used for this purpose in the clinic, to which I have referred, is the typhoid vaccine. This is harmless enough, surely, and my friend says its use is frequently followed by remarkable improvement.

On the physical side, baking, massage and exercise are applied to the affected joints. Their value will be appreciated by everybody.

The third part of the treatment, the educational feature, is extremely interesting. The patient is taught that the unwillingness to keep their painful joints in motion has much to do wth the stiffness and ultimate locking of the joints. The crippling follows long-time refusal to use the affected joint.

When patients know that others with the same painful disease have been materially benefited by these simple methods they are encouraged to carry out instructions. Your home doctor can do all these things for you.

Go to him for a frank talk and and if he thinks they are suitable in your case, see if you cannot settle down to systematic use of these methods. They have been of material benefit to others, perhaps they will prove to be exactly what you need.

Answers to Health Queries

R. H. Q.—What can I do for indigestion?

2—I have never been vaccinated. Do you advise vaccination?

A.—Correct your diet and keep the intestinal tract clear. For full details send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

2—Yes.

Love at First Sight Often a Trap, Says Fay King

By FAY KING

ALL fortune hunters are not impoverished titled foreigners searching for a million-heiress!

Alas! there are many men who use the same tactics to gain the small savings of far poorer girls.

Young women who work hard and deny themselves many comforts and luxuries to put money in the bank should be very silent about those things.

Many a girl who has confided her financial affluence to a new young man she meets has found herself courted, engaged and swindled before she knew what was happening!

These titled men who maneuver themselves into the good graces of an important family and find themselves supported and established through a marriage with the daughter, are not alone in their scheming and success.

Less pretentious young men have whined and won their way into the good graces of a provident young woman who has married them and supported them by hard work, and put them through college, or helped them in a public career.

Arriving at success, these selfish fellows often neglect the one who sacrificed so much for their futures. They sometimes even demand that since she thinks so much of his happiness and success, she should think enough of his future to release him now so he may marry the daughter of a man who will give him the opportunity of a life-time.

Love at first sight is often only a matter of quick foresight on the part of one who recognizes an opportunity to further selfish interests through marriage, and knows it cannot survive the test of time and better acquaintance.

MEDITATIONS of a MARRIED WOMAN

by HELEN ROWLAND

LOVE'S PARCEL POST

NO MATTER how often love or the postman may pass her by, a woman always hopes there will be something thrilling in the "next male."

Before marriage two's company and three's a crowd; after marriage, two's monotony—and three's a Godsend.

The lipstick is only about two inches long, but it has bridged a great chasm between mother and daughter.

HELEN ROWLAND

A man regards a woman's love first as a gift, then as a right, then as a matter of course—and last, as a punishment.

Alas! How can a man help it, if a woman WILL persist in covering him with a lot of illusions—and then sues him for alimony when he doesn't live up to them?

If wives and stenographers would only cooperate, no man would have a chance to get very far from the dotted line between his desk and his doormat.

A woman often wishes that she had kept a few copies of her girlish love-letters; but if a man ever stops to think of the burning ones HE has been guilty of, it is to wish that he had kept the ORIGINALS.

No woman need lack for a "mission" in life. Almost any man can supply her with enough "weaknesses" to gladden her heart and keep her busy "reforming" him from the wedding-day to the grave.

A girl's efficiency in a modern business office depends mostly on how long she can manage to go without powdering her nose and reinforcing her healthy color.

What's the Answer?

1. Who said, "The more I know of men, the better I like dogs," when Napoleon banished her from Paris?
2. What American possession has been termed "a white elephant?"
3. Within 20 years when did the Sepoy Mutiny take place?
4. From what does the Prince of Monaco derive his chief revenue?
5. Where did Robert Louis Stevenson die?
6. Who was Cagliostro?
7. Who said, "Consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds?"
8. In what city is the renowned Leaning Tower?
9. The inedible core of what vegetable is used in making pipes?
10. What is the largest seaport in Belgium?

The answers to these questions may be found in tomorrow's paper.

Here are the answers to yesterday's questions.

1. Robert Peary, Richard Byrd and Roald Amundsen succeeded in reaching the North Pole. Dr. F. A. Cook claimed that he reached the Pole, but his documents were judged to contain no proof of it.
2. The headquarters of the Metropolitan police of London is called Scotland Yard because it occupied the site of a palace in which the Scottish kings resided when they came to London.
3. In the last illness of Lorenzo de Medici, the doctors tried to save his life with a medicament of pearls and gems, which they forced him to swallow.
4. Dr. Samuel Johnson wrote "Lives of the Poets."
5. Chaucer has jestingly inserted himself into his own works. He slyly refers to what "Chaucer says" in the Canterbury Tales.
6. Nova Scotia, Canada, is the present name of the district known as Acadie, the scene of Longfellow's "Evangeline."
7. Prior to the outbreak of the World War, Great Britain, France and Russia constituted the Triple Entente.
8. The public assembly place in Rome where lawsuits were tried and orations made to the public was called the Forum.
9. Augustus St. Gaudens was an American sculptor of Irish birth.
10. Sanscrit was the ancient sacred language of the learned Hindus.

TOMORROW'S HOROSCOPE

Saturday, February 18

A DAY of liveliness and pleasure in many directions is foreshown by the planetary mutations.

There may be a leaning to self-indulgence and social pleasures rather than to the more serious undertakings, although there will be a high stimulus to the energies. Directed into prolific channels of art or amusement, the urge may be legitimately expressed; but sign papers carefully.

Those whose birthday it is may have a pleasant year, with the energies turned in the direction of pleasureable indulgence rather than to graver matters, which may prosper if of the nature of amusement, art or things feminine.

A child born on this day may be energetic and resourceful, while also gifted in artistic and social qualities. Over-indulgence in the latter menaces, if not controlled.

Aim to Live 100

An Easy System to Follow for People Half Dead Around the Age of 40.

Millions of people who suffer needlessly from constiaption, sour stomach, indigestion, liver, kidney and impure blood ailments should follow this proven advice: Go to your druggist, ask him for a box of the famous Bulgarian Herb (Blood) Tea.

Begin right now to put back power and health into your blood. Take a cupful of the rich vitalizing plant juices of these precious herbs once each week. Remember, no cheating. Once a week regularly, that's the system, and stick to it. In a very short time you will begin to feel like a new person. Yes, you will feel years younger.

Further, just to break up a cold quickly and avoid "Flu" or pneumonia, Bulgarian Herb (Blood) Tea is worth ten times its small cost. Remember, ask your druggist at once. Don't put it off. Start in right now to vitalize and build up your blood.

DELIBERATES 23 HOURS; JURY DISCHARGED

Deadlocked after deliberating 23 hours in the case of Ralph Maloney, 31, of Thirteenth avenue, Homestead, charged with robbery and felonious assault and battery, a jury of seven women and five men was discharged yesterday in Criminal Court by Visiting Judge William T. Darr of Brookville.

Maloney was accused of attacking and robbing Vincent Pitkutis of $64 last October 27 in the cab of an electric crane 50 feet in the air in the Homestead Steel Works, where both worked. Pitkutis said 36 stitches were required to close wounds on his head. He did not identify Maloney as his assailant. Maloney declared that he was not at work that day.

TWO LOCAL MEN LOST ON MAINE

Two Pittsburghers—not one as commonly reported—were lost in the sinking of the U. S. S. Maine in Havana harbor 30 years ago yesterday it was disclosed today by George Jones of 604 Hays avenue, Mount Oliver, whose buddy, Alfred J. Frisher, was an oiler on the American ship sunk in Havana harbor by Spanish mines.

Frisher enlisted from the residence of his brother, Thomas Frisher and in the last letter to his friend Jones referred to the bitter feeling toward Americans, which sailors experienced on shore leave. The Pittsburgh youth, whose adventures and heroic death had been overlooked in the service of Lieut. Friend W. Jenkins, the other Pittsburgher who perished was popular among all men on the Maine because of his ability as a singer, said Mr. Jones.

DRUGGIST TELLS HOW TO END INDIGESTION

Recommends to Sufferers the Best Stomach Remedy in Pittsburgh Today

"It is a wonder some of us have stomachs left," remarked a well-known druggist recently. "While all drug stores sell a score or more of stomach remedies for which there is a wide demand, most of them are just pepsin pills which aid digestion of the food that is in the stomach at the present time. They have no curative or strengthening effect on the stomach at all, and, of course, do not reach or cure the cause. So the same people keep on coming here and buying and using them until they are real chronic dyspeptics. When anyone really asks my advice, I swear by and recommend ordinary Bisurated Magnesia, which doesn't digest the food at all, but acts as an antacid and sweetens the sour, fermenting contents of the stomach. That stops the pain, heartburn, sour rising, wind, bloating, fullness, etc., in just a few minutes, and the stomach digests its food without help or trouble, which is the proper way. Yes, a lot of Bisurated Magnesia is sold in Pittsburgh. May Drug Co. and all the druggists have it, I suppose, and all you take is a teaspoonful or two tablets after every meal. It's all right."

HE HAS NO MORE GAS ON STOMACH

Local Salesman Had Indigestion Two Years; Ten Herbs Alone Gave Relief.

"I suffered with my stomach for two years, and kept buying medicines, but nothing did me any good, excepting Ten Herbs, which rid me of gas after eating," was the statement of Mr. Paul Schiller, salesman, 5599 Baum Boulevard, Pittsburgh, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily demonstrating this great natural medicine. "My tongue was always coated, and I had a bad taste upon arising in the morning," Mr. Schiller continued. "Gas always formed after eating, and there would be a heavy feeling in my stomach, indicating a bad case of indigestion. I was so restless at night I got very little sleep, and in the morning would feel tired and unfit for work. Then my kidneys seemed to get out of condition and you can imagine how terrible I felt.

"A friend recommended Ten Herbs as a purely herbal compound that had done wonders for him. I started to use your medicine, and before long I felt a great deal better. After taking several bottles, I had no more gas on my stomach, and that heaviness is gradually disappearing. My restless nights are over, and I am getting sound sleep and perfect rest. My kidneys have been greatly benefited. I feel confident that if I continue the use of the medicine a little while longer I shall be back to normal health. I recommend Ten Herbs to anyone suffering like I was."

Hundreds of people in Pittsburgh and vicinity are reporting that Ten Herbs gave them amazing results in relieving indigestion and constipation. They say this popular medicine also benefits and invigorates the liver and kidneys, and makes one feel better in every way. Ten Herbs cleanses the system, and relieves the bad condition caused by the accumulations of poisonous waste matter and impurities.

The Ten Herbs Man is at May's Main Store, 529 Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine. Free samples given.

FIFTH AVENUE ATLANTIC 1000 PITTSBURGH

THE DRESSES MORE ALLURING

It's easy to be smartly dressed these days—easy because of the large numbers of chic dresses to choose from—and easy because of the reasonable prices.

We have sketched a new "Deja" model as shown in Vogue. The top simulates a printed handkerchief in floral design, while the skirt is of a plain morocco red crepe to match—the price is 39.50. Hundreds of other dresses express ideas just as unusual. Priced from 29.75 to $125.

(Kaufmann's—Fourth Floor)

HATS of the MOMENT $5 and $10

There is indubitably a trace of Spring and newness in these chic little models that combine felt and straw. The all-felts are unmistakably new, also, with their new brims . . . slightly uneven or pertly upturned. And then there are hats entirely of straw . . . and neat black satins that presage the Spring. And . . . after the fashion of Marie Alphonsine . . . there is a detail of tucking and pleating as to brims and crowns, that adds smartness.

I. Miller Presents Honey Beige Footwear

Foremost in the mode for Spring . . . Honey-Beige in footwear. Foremost in the footwear mode . . . I. Miller. The combination results in irresistible models . . . daintily styled with feminine grace. Sketched is a slipper that combines honey-beige and marron kid in an asymetrical effect. $16. (Same model in black kid, $14). Another smart shoe has a lower heel, and combines honey-beige kid vamp with honey-beige ooze quarter, $15. In black, $14. Other I. Miller models 12.50 to 27.50.

THE SUIT ACHIEVES IMPORTANCE

Increasing interest is being expressed each succeeding day in the numbers of new suits we are showing. It looks like a suit season, Ensemble or tailored.

Typical of the ensembles is the suit sketched above. Coat and skirt are made of navy twill—the waist and lining of new blue morocco crepe in marked contrast to the darker navy. You will note the same contrasting colors in rows of button trimmings. $59.

Other suits are $25 to $150.

CASE AGAINST ARMSTRONG DELAYED

Presentation to the February grand jury of charges against County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong and William H. Ziefel, chief clerk, accused of falsifying corporation books and making false entries for holding an alleged "one-man" commissioners' meeting March 28, 1925, listed yesterday, has been postponed until next week.

The postponement was requested by Mrs. J. O. Miller, state president of the League of Women Voters, prosecutor of the charges, District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner stated, because of the absence of a witness.

A charge of perjury against Joseph R. Gauss, county division road supervisor, accused of swearing falsely September 14, during the audit of then Controller C. C. McGovern, and a charge of aggravated assault and battery against John T. Torchia, accused of attacking McGovern in his office, September 22, both listed yesterday, also were postponed until next week, at the request of McGovern, according to Gardner.

THAW CONSPIRATOR GETS 5-YEAR TERM

CONVICTED IN PLOT TO EXTORT

Fred H. Wipf, 43, of 355 Craig street, today was sentenced to two and a half to five years in Western Penitentiary by Visiting Judge J. Graff, following his conviction yesterday on charges of attempting to extort $5,000 from Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., of 5427 Forbes street, member of a prominent Pittsburgh family, and of beating a maid in the Thaw home.

Mrs. Thaw herself was the commonwealth's star witness against Wipf, whose defense was mental irresponsibility and urgent need for money to aid his wife and child destitute in Switzerland. The well-known society matron told of hearing the maids' screams after Wipf had forced entrance into her home and attacked one of them with a revolver; of receiving through the mails a threatening note demanding $5,000 and instructing her to insert an ad in the personal columns accepting the demand. This she did, but detectives, instead of Mrs. Thaw, kept the rendezvous arranged.

Five cartridges fell from Wipf's revolver when he swung it on Margaret Grealey, a maid, and Mrs. Thaw testified that she had given one of the cartridges to the police and four to "a friend of the family."

Solid Skulls Due to Sutures Closing Too Soon—Facts of Our Bony Structure

Twins and monsters, their cause and peculiarities, were discussed yesterday in The Sun-Telegraph by author Dorsey. In every hundred births there is a pair of twins, he said, but not all multiple births are true or identical twins. Telling why there are monstrosities, the author laid the bogy of babies "marked" before birth by mothers' "scares."

How the Human Foot Is Changing

By GEORGE A. DORSEY, PH.D., LL.D.

CHAPTER VI.

IN UPRIGHT gait, balanced skull, and arms free at the sides of the body, we differ most from the only animals that ape us. This upright gait is maintained by action of muscle on bone. We hang on a bony skeleton, largely levers. We move by setting those levers in motion. To put us across 100 yards in 10 seconds, the skeleton must be mature. If our bones were cartilage we would be wonderful contortionists, but our upright gait would collapse.

GEORGE A. DORSEY

Our ancestors went on all-fours. In acquiring the upright gait, the axis of the body changed from horizontal to perpendicular. This necessitated changes in every bone and muscle in the body and a complete overhauling of everything inside—lungs, circulation, abdominal viscera—everything.

Our pelvic girdle is a broad, shallow basis; it supports viscera. The keystone of the girdle is the sacrum. It supports the backbone and locks the arch behind. The dog's sacrum is long and narrow; ours, broader than it is long. The sacrum at birth varies from four to seven vertebrae. These unite into one bone; but the first, and sometimes the second, never unites with the others.

Above the sacrum is the vertebral column proper: seven neck or cervical, twelve thoracic and five lumbar vertebrae—24 in all. But there may be six or eight cervical; 11 or 13 thoracic; four to six lumbar. At birth, most of us have 12 pairs of ribs; some only 11, some 13.

Seven pairs of ribs join our sternum, or breastbone; there may be only six, there may be eight. The first pair are sometimes mere rudiments. Our floating ribs are not so important as when we walked on all fours; they vary in number and size. The sternum is less important than formerly; it varies enormously. Two little bones sometimes found on its upper border are vestiges of the episternal bones of the lowest mamals.

No man-made column is so delicately adjusted, so slender, or so well balanced as our spine. Its sigmoid, or "S" curve, gives elasticity to our body, grace to our carriage, fine lines to our back, and saves our brain from jar and shock. The really human curves develop after birth, especially the lumbar curve in the "small" of our back. The infant cannot stand straight up because it has not yet acquired a stand-up-straight backbone.

Our backbone ends in small rounded bones about the size of peas. They are the coccyx, skeleton of our tail. They may grow fast to the sacrum, and by restricting the size of the pelvic opening give trouble in childbirth. The orang has only three tail bones; we generally have five. Like the apes, we also have vestiges of muscles which once moved the tail, blood vessels which nourished it, nerves which connected it with the brain.

There is no tailed race in Africa—as the ancients believed. Man withdrew his tail beneath his skin before he was really man, but nature now and then forgets to withdraw the fetal tail. One adult tail measured 10 inches. Such tails are usually "soft"—no tail bones outside the body. But a two-inch-long tail with bones, nerves, blood vessels, muscles and hair is known. Tail or no tail, the hair keeps on growing in a whorl as though the tail were present.

Our Changing Feet

The upper-arm bone assumes its human form only after birth, when it also begins to twist, as does the femur, to conform to its new position at the side of the body. Above its lower articulating surface is a thin and shallow plate, often perforated—as in certain monkeys. Sometimes there is a hole or forearm at the side; it protects a nerve—as it did in our reptilian ancestors 10,000,000 years ago.

Human history may not start with man's foot, but our foot is as human as our hands. Its bones show coming and going changes. The big toe is the strongest and is more powerful in man than in any ape; it is coming. But most of it comes after birth; baby's big toe is a poor affair. The little toe is going. In one individual out of every three it has lost a joint. But not on account of tight shoes—they can make corns, but cannot change heredity, the third bone of the little toe is as often absent in feet which were never shod.

Our skull is no more human than the bones of our foot or our pelvis. It is shorter in front, longer at the back, better balanced on the spine's adaptations to an upright gait and a larger brain.

Man has a flat face and a sizable chin when he has short jaws. But jaws vary, and long or prognathic jaws change the countenance. The roof of our mouth was once longer than broad—U-shaped, as in some men and all apes. With civilized food, the jaws are shortening; the hard palate tends to become elliptical in shape.

Boneheads

In fetal life we have a pair of intermaxillaries between the upper jaw bones. At birth the suture, as skull joints are called, between them can barely be seen: by maturity, not at all. The suture often persists, obviously atavistic. The chin, or mental point of the lower jaw, has nothing to do with "mentality." It is a human trait, but not of all men equally. Some have "strong" chins, some next to no chin at all.

We have two nasal bones. But in some men and all monkeys they become one; no real bridge then to the nose. Sometimes the bones are small and flat—no bridge at all.

The brain can grow only as long as the three big sutures of the skull remain open. They begin to close at the age of 40; the one at the back first; the forepart of the brain can keep on growing. In animals the sutures close earlier than in man, the front ones first. They may close early in man; they may persist till old age.

When one or another skull suture closes prematurely, curiously shaped heads result. The "boat-shaped" head is due to premature closing of the parietal suture. When all the sutures close prematurely, the skull becomes solid as though a single bone. The brain can grow no more. Idiocy results—the "Aztec" people of the circus.

BUSINESS MEN'S MINE RELIEF REPORT READY

COMMITTEE TO MEET MONDAY

Augustus K. Oliver, chairman of the Business Men's Committee for Relief of Miners' Families, had before him today a mass of reports prepared by the 15 field workers administering the businessmen's and clergymen's funds. He said that after studying and collating this material he would know how much money was being disbursed and how much required, and would lay the information before a joint meeting of the executive committees of the businessmen's and clergymen's funds, which probably would be held next Monday.

In the meantime, practically no information has been made public concerning the financial aspects of the movement co-operatively conducted by the business men and clergy under the name of Joint Relief Administration.

It is reported that the clergy has raised $2,900 up to the time that the business men's committee was formed, and that its fund has since mounted to about $5,000. What the business men raised has not been divulged. Arthur E. Braun, president of the Farmers Deposit National Bank, treasurer of the business men's fund, has been unwilling to make the amount public, not only because he questioned his authority to do so, but also because he doubts the advisability of it.

Between 40 and 50 of the foremost business men of Pittsburgh attended the meeting at which the relief committee was formed, and they were urged to give not less than $1,000 each. Reports have since been circulated that they did not respond as generously as was expected. That the appeal resulted in failure has been denied, however. Mr. Braun said a substantial amount had been received. Mr. Oliver said that, although he did not know to what extent those who attended the meeting had contributed, he had the assurance of Mr. Braun a day or two later that the response had been "very gratifying." The business men's committee has made no appeal to the public for funds, but may do so, Mr. Oliver said.

Dr. E. N. Clopper, executive secretary of the Federation of Social Agencies, estimated that it would take $6,400 a week to relieve the destitution in the mining camps of Allegheny County. The joint relief administration of business men and clergy has established four relief stations in the field—one each at Russellton, Curry, Monongahela and Primrose. It is disbursing its money through professional social workers, who, after investigation, give the destitute families orders entitling them to stipulated amounts of goods at their neighborhood grocery stores.

AVOID DUPLICATION

To avoid duplication of relief work the Joint Relief Administration is co-operating with the United Mine Workers, Central Labor Union, Pennsylvania-Ohio Committee and other agencies assisting the strikers.

The reports that Mr. Oliver is considering today were prepared in answer to a questionnaire in which he asked for the total number of miners' families in which the breadwinner was not working, the number visited by the social workers, the number needing relief, the number needing 100 per cent relief, the number needing 50 per cent relief, the amount of cash distributed to date, and an estimate of how much more would be needed.

John Hoehn, treasurer of the Central Labor Union's relief committee, stated today that it is distributing weekly 17,000 pints of milk, at a cost of $1,195.40, to miners' children under five years of age, but added that about 5,000 additional children of that age are yet to be supplied. He appealed for contributions to the milk fund. Some of the recent donors are:

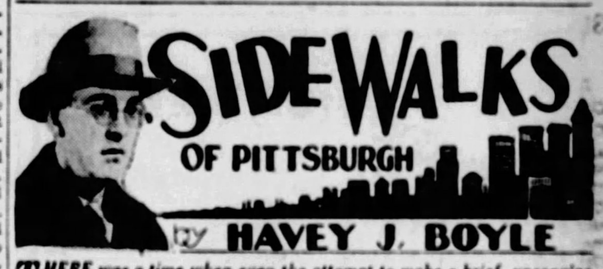
MISS DORIS DUKE

Awarded a home and other property worth millions from the estate of her father, the late "Tobacco King," Doris Duke may lose most of her newly-acquired fortune through a recent ruling against the estate in a damage suit. Payment of $8,000,000 was ordered made from the estate to George Haskell, of Springfield, Mass.



THERE was a time when even the attempt to make a brief, unconvincing and on the whole generally bad talk made our teeth chatter and the knees quake. Practice makes perfect, they say, and now we can report that only our knees rattle around a little.

ONE of the most interesting experiences in this connection came the other night when a determined gentleman from WJAS, a local broadcasting station, asked the boss if he would assign us to speak.

That usually is the best way. When they come direct we always manage to have a pretty story ready—that we are quarantined with scarlet fever—or some other little lie that will readily go down. But Mr. Tom Morris, an excellent baritone by the way, or his colleague at WJAS whose name escapes us—or rather never has been captured—put on the well-known slug and when the boss suggested we speak over the radio we said: "Nothing would please me better."

USUALLY, the best way to give a talk to save the trouble of preparing lengthy sermon is to stand up for target practice and tell the audience one will answer any questions that are on its chest. This doesn't work out so well on the radio.

THE station was fair enough to its air clients to announce well before hand that we were going to talk. This might have had something to do with the eerie quiet while we were on the air.

OUTSIDE of one number the program that night was swell. Sitting in the broadcasting room we heard the announcer say: "The Hawaiian Trio will now sing 'On the Beach at Waikiki.' The trio has not arrived in the room as yet and mentally we figured: "This is no such a bad assignment after all—Hawaiian girls in those straw skirts eh, and maybe a dance!"

To our discomfiture in walked the Hawaiian trio, but, instead of gasing upon three dusky-shinned natives of our insular possessions, we looked with some disappointment upon three fellows from Fair Haven. Not so good, thought we, although their singing was fine.

WHAT made up for this disappointment, however, was a quartet led by the Sutter twins. Quartets are our particular weakness, and especially quartets that sing the sentimental ballads of the day.

THE next number was a soprano solo. We believe it was entitled "Oh, That I Were a Lark," or "Hark to the Thrush,' and the lady who sang that number didn't weigh an ounce over 300. We could appreciate the sentiment that inspired a desire to be transformed into a lark or a thrush, but it seemed to us that this was asking just a little too much. We would have gone along with "Oh, That I Were an Eagle," but jumping from 300 pounds down to the dimensions of a lark—well, that seemed to be putting it on a bit thick.

WE WERE certain all sets were better than ours, because most of the performers get letters telling them how much the Ladies' Aid of Orville or how the boys at Criders Corners enjoyed their work. Except for our little cousin in Punxsutawney who got a big kick out of our saying over the radio: "I hope my little cousin in Punxsutawney is listening in tonight," we didn't seem to go over so big.

HOUSE OWNERS HIT IN POLICE WAR ON VICE

Owners and agents of property being used for commercialized vice are the target for proposed prosecutions by the police department, it was announced yesterday by Director James M. Clark of the Public Safety Department. A general order issued provides that when raids are made on disorderly houses and speakeasies the names of the owners or agents of the property shall be turned over to the magistrate hearing the case and to Director Clark.

Notice then will be served upon the owners or agents to evict the undesirable tenants, Director Clark said. If this is not done within a week, the courts will be asked for injunctions restraining owners from renting property for such purposes.

The general order was read in all the police stations yesterday, and similar instructions were given to the various district inspectors who attended a conference with the Director and Supt. Peter P. Walsh. If the orders are ignored, the officers conducting the raids will be brought before the police trial board. The latest move of the police has received the approval of Mayor Charles H. Kline, Mr. Clark said.

The owner of the Hotel Loraine, in North Highland avenue, which was raided recently, was called into Director Clark's office yesterday and notified to have the tenants removed immediately. He promised to comply with the order.

TO EXPEDITE TAX COLLECTION

D. B. Heiner, collector of internal revenue, Twenty-third District of Pennsylvania, yesterday announced a program for assigning deputy collectors to towns in the Pittsburgh district to assist taxpayers in preparing their income tax returns for 1927. He has prepared a schedule showing the different towns to which deputies will be assigned, together with designated places and dates. Mr. Heiner has found from former experience that this system has been a great help in relieving the congestion at the main office of the internal revenue department, Federal Building, as many taxpayers delay filing returns until the last few days permitted by law. Many of the deputy collectors will report Monday at the places to which they have been assigned.

Drummond Brings His Lawyer to See Lily About Divorce

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

LILLY LEXINGTON, spoiled daughter of the CYRUS LEXINGTONS, is engaged to marry STALEY DRUMMOND, a rich bachelor much older than herself. She is fond of him, but realizes she does not really love him the day after she accepts him, when she becomes instantly and violently infatuated with a taxicab driver whom she sees downtown when she goes to meet her chum, SUE CAIN. Forgetting all about Sue, she jumps into his cab and he drives her home. She learns that his name is PAT FRANCE and that he owns his own cab in a company headed by his friend, ROY JETTERSON. She marries Pat. Lily tried, and their domestic ship sailed smoothly for a few months. One day Lily met SUE CAIN, an old friend, on the street. Sue invited her to a card party. Lily, without funds, went to a store and tried to charge some clothes to her father. She was informed her mother had left word that "Mrs. Patrick France could not charge things to Mr. Lexington." Drummond pays all her bills. She leaves Pat. When her parents come home they tell her that they are broke. Drummond again comes to the rescue. Sue Cain is married; they have a wild party.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER LIV.

STALEY sat down at the breakfast table, pushing back an egg-stained plate and a soiled napkin to make a place for his pearl gray hat.

He was curiously out of place in the room that never had had a really good cleaning since Lily had been at home. For Mrs. Lexington, who was a born commander and knew how to get plenty of work out of everybody else, did not know how to make herself work.

And so the silver was dim on the buffet, the tablecloth was none too clean and the furniture did not shine like dark brown glass as it had in the old days.

Against that background Staley was as sleek and well groomed as a chorus man. His skin was pink from a recent bath and shave, his hair and his little blond mustache glistened from some kind of pomade. His collar was spotless. His necktie looked as if it never had been tied before.

But the sight of him did not thrill Lily as the sight of Pat with grease on his overalls and grease on his face and more grease under his nails had always thrilled her. Pat! She put him out of her mind. She was through with him because he was through with her, and that was the end of it. The end of an adventure that had gone on the rocks.

"No use thinking about it," Lily decided, setting down her coffee cup and giving Staley one of those quick, brilliant smiles that made her lovely face even lovelier than when it was grave and unsmiling.

"I suppose you mean he came to see me about getting a divorce—your lawyer friend, Staley," she said, and then she drew a deep breath. "Well, I'm ready to talk to him."

That surprised Staley. She saw the look of astonishment and relief that swept across his face.

"Well, I'm certainly glad to hear that," he said. "There's no use delaying things, now that you've made up your mind at last."

"Now that I've made up my mind," Lily echoed, and got up from her chair. "Well, let's go and talk to him. What's his name, Manton?"

The lawyer was a ferret-faced little man with a sharp nose, sharp blue eyes, and a sharp chin below a perfectly straight mouth. He looked as sharp and clever as Staley had always said he was.

But Lily did not like him. "How can I talk to him about Pat?" she asked herself as he shook her hand with his cold dry one. "What business is it of his that Pat and I didn't get along?"

If he had been a special enemy of hers, she could not have disliked him any more than she did, sitting down with him in the dusty living room of the house.

"Now, Mrs. France," he began laying the pale thin tips of his fingers together, "I understand that your husband would not provide a home of your own for you when you first married him."

"Who told you that?" asked Lily sharply, and from the look that the lawyer shot at Staley she knew that he had told him.

"Never mind. Go on," she said quickly.

The lawyer gave a small, sour-looking smile. "Perhaps you would better tell me all this yourself, Mrs. France," he suggested. "It might be better if you would start right at the beginning of your marriage to Patrick France and tell me everything about it."

Lily opened her lips to speak and then closed them again.

What was there that she could say against Pat in all honesty? She searched her mind and could think of nothing except his friendship with Elizabeth Ertz. And there really was very little to that. Only, of course, she had been in his apartment that day a month ago when Lily had made up her mind to go back to Pat and stay with him. Surely that had not looked so well.

"Let me talk to you alone," she said finally to the lawyer, and turned her head to Staley. "You understand, Staley, that it is very hard for me to go into all this, don't you, and you won't mind if I ask you to go out of the room, will you?"

Staley probably did mind, but he did not say so. He simply shrugged his shoulders and went sauntering out of the room whistling a little tune.

When he was gone Lily got up and stood before the lawyer.

She drew a deep breath like a runner getting ready for a race or a swimmer for a dive.

For the first time in her life she was going to tell the truth when it was hard to tell the truth. When, at any other time in her 23 years, she would have dressed up the truth to suit her own purposes.

But now she simply could not lie about Pat. She found she simply could not blacken his character to this lawyer. She could not make him out something that he was not, even though to do so meant her freedom and her marriage to Staley and Staley's money.

"Mr. Manton," she said steadily. "I am afraid it's my fault that my husband won't live with me. I may as well be honest with you. I did my best at first to live on the little bit of money that he made, but after I saw some of my old friends and found out that Staley Drummond still cared about me, I worked him for some clothes I wanted and for anything else I needed. I did not get very much from him, but still I did enough gold digging to make me feel ashamed of it now. And I met him outside the house and let him make love to me."

She shook her bright head with its ripples of sunny copper. "I wasn't a good wife," she added, "and the only complaint I have against my husband is his friendship for a certain woman that he knew before he married me. A nurse named Elizabeth Ertz. I found him having breakfast in the same restaurant where she was eating one morning and he took her home from a friend's house one night.

The lawyer looked doubtful.

"Then the last time I went to see my husband I found her there in his flat," she went on. "She seemed to be doing his housework for him. She had a duster in her hand."

The lawyer held up his hand. He smiled his tight, dry smile. "That's all you need," he declared. "Just leave it to me. I'll get your divorce for you."

He stood up, his hat and his pigskin briefcase in his hand. "We'll name her co-respondent," he said.

Two minutes later he and Staley were on their way downtown. Lily saw them smile and nod to each other in great satisfaction as they started down the driveway in Staley's rakish yellow roadster.

She felt like crying for some mysterious reason, as she watched them go.

Merely Margy, An Awfully Sweet Girl

Story by Lloyd Mayer — By John Held, Jr.

"My dear, I'm all hot and BOTHered—I ACtually AM, because I saw ARab this morning for the first time in DAYS, my dear, because his BROTHer has been giving me the most treMENdous RUSH and every time ARab's called UP to make a DATE or something his BROTHer's always sort of BEATen him TO it or something. Well, ANYways, ARab seemed terribly HURT when I saw him toDAY, my dear, and I simply COULDn't underSTAND it because I mean I couldn't think of a THING I'd done to offEND him, my dear, but when I started telling him how awfully SWEET I thought his BROTHer was, my dear, it suddenly DAWNED on me he was prob'ly JEALous of him on account of his giving me such a WHIRL at this point—can you BEAR it? But I mean of course ARab's TERribly SENsitive, my dear, and I s'pose he sort of FEELS it's HOPEless for him to try and comPETE with his BROTHer because he's such a man-of-the-WORLD and so awfully exPErienced with WOMen, sort of. But I mean I simply aDORE ARab, my dear, and I ALways want him for a FRIEND and I wouldn't have anything come between our FRIENDship for the WORLD, my dear, and it's riDIC for him to be JEALous of his BROTHer, because while I think he's FRIGHTfully inTRIguing and all, my dear, I think he prob'ly has a HEAVy GIRL in New YORK or somewheres and REALly isn't a BIT int'rested in ME in THAT way—I mean I ACtually DO!"

Mary Harrison Anxious to Have Her Confession to Philip Veritzen Over With

THERE was something in the smile which Mary tossed back to me as I complimented her astuteness in reading the actions of Eleanor Lincoln and George Jackson, which quickly changed my theory concerning her reason for following me to my room after our call at The Larches. I had thought she was concerned only with the exciting prospect of having two personable young men as rivals for her attention, and the accompanying opportunity of thwarting Miss Lincoln's designs upon Noel Veritzen which it would give her, but noting the wistful little quirk of her lips as the smile faded, and the troubled questioning which had come into her eyes, I realized that all her rattling chatter had been but camouflage for some other and more serious purpose.

Impulsively I stepped toward her, and laid an affectionate hand upon her arm.

"Am I mistaken, Mary, in thinking you wish to ask me about something more serious than the queer actions of our new neighbors?" I queried.

Her lips quivered, her eyes blinked, and I saw with astonishment that she was fighting back tears. I pretended not to see her emotion, and carefully averted my eyes until she pulled herself together and spoke with no trace of tremulousness in her voice.

"Yes, I do want to ask you something," she admitted. "It's about Mr. Veritzen. When do you think I ought to tell him about—all that—you know—as soon as he gets here, or must I wait awhile?" It will just kill me to sit around, having him nice to me and imagining all the terrible things he'll say to me when he finds out what I did. I know just how the people waiting to be electrocuted feel. Geo! I'm in the death house now!"

I had a sudden panic-stricken vision of Mr. Veritzen's state of mind were he to be confronted before our dinner with the discovery that his estranged son, Noel, was also to be a dinner guest, and the confession of Mary's deceit and experience as a masked dancer at a night club which she was determined to make to him.

"Oh, but you mustn't tell him as soon as he comes, Mary," I said, in horrified alarm. "If he's surprised, it will upset him so that the dinner would be spoiled for him—perhaps for the rest of us, although of course he will make no scene—he is too well-bred, too poised, to display any anger. But I am afraid he will make some excuse for not staying at the dinner, and then your Uncle Dicky will be angry."

Mary's eyes widened at me.

"Uncle Dicky angry because Mr. Veritzen isn't coming to dinner!" she exclaimed in such naive and sincere astonishment that I felt my cheeks flushing hotly. But I made my voice casual and matter-of-fact as I replied.

"Yes, I know that sounds odd," I said, "for your uncle doesn't care much for Mr. Veritzen."

"Well, you can't blame him for that," Mary commented, not saucily, but as one stating an evident fact.

"However," I went on steadily, ignoring her interruption, "for some reason he is very anxious to have Miss Lincoln meet Mr. Veritzen at this dinner, and has asked me to arrange it. Perhaps you know your uncle well enough to realize that he will be angry if his plans fail to materialize."

"You bet I do know that little thing," Mary commented, "and I'll promise not to stick any pitchforks between the wires of the cage. But oh! Auntie Madge, please arrange a meeting for me with Mr. Veritzen as soon as you can. I shall feel as if I were being dipped in boiling oil until I get that confession thing off my chest."

Men and Women! How Much Weight Would You Like to Quickly Gain?

One Very Thin Man Gained 28 Pounds in Eight Weeks

A woman quickly loses her charm and attractiveness when she gets below normal weight.

Her health also is apt to suffer and that means a decrease in energy and vivacity.

Some women have become so thin that people call them scrawny or skinny. Many underweight women are more to be pitied than blamed—they don't know what to do to gain flesh and attractiveness.

People are underweight because the food they eat is not assimilated—does not get into the blood to build firm, healthy flesh.

Correct this condition and weight will undoubtedly go to normal and that haggard look and flabby skin ought to disappear.

Burl Craig, of Indianapolis, speaks highly of McCoy's Tablets as a builder of weight and strength.

Read This Letter:

"I highly recommend McCoy's Tablets. They have helped me wonderfully. Before I took them I felt tired and run-down and lazy and didn't want to do a thing but lie around, now I feel fine and work all the time and have gained both weight and strength, thanks to McCoy's Tablets."

McCoy's Tablets are sugar-coated and easy to take—old folks and children who are run down and thin take them readily, but read McCoy's fair and square offer.

McCoy takes all the risk—read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking four 60-cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or two one-dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least five pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened—just ask for McCoy's Tablets at May's Drug Stores or any drug store in America.

Annoying Night Coughs

Stopped Almost Instantly

Very frequently adults and children, especially children, have spells of night coughing due to bronchial irritations or while suffering from colds. These coughing spells, if not quickly checked, are very injurious to the health.

A famous physician's prescription called Thoxine, much better than patent medicines and cough syrups, acts on a different principle, relieves the irritation and stops the cough within 15 minutes or money back. Contains no chloroform, dope or other harmful drugs. Pleasant tasting and safe. 35c, 60c and $1.00. Ask for Thoxine. At all druggists.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.

Safe Relief

You need not guess what Tonsiline contains. We print the ingredients on every bottle. They are known to be reliable for the treatment of inflamed conditions of the throats and mouths of children and adults and have been favorites in the prescriptions of physicians for many years. Over thirty years use proves Tonsiline is the perfect combination of these valuable drugs. Don't accept a subsitute. Insist on the bottle with the long necked fellow on it.

New Frocks Arrive Daily

Chic Early Spring Modes for Daytime or for Afternoon Wear

$39.50

Pictured are two of the most fetching new designs. The tucked model, after a famous original, is acclaimed for its simplicity. Self flutings and two jeweled ornaments are its only trims—available in black, navy and beige. The satin frock with V yoke and cuffs of embroidered ecru net simulates the two-piece manner. Its pleated skirt is a new note.

Sizes for Women and for Misses

(McCreery—Third Floor)

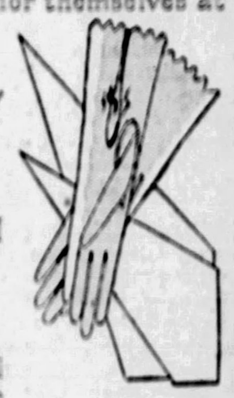
There's immeasurable satisfaction in certainty—certainty that a purchase represents a vogue approved at that moment by connoisseurs of fashion—certainty that its quality is unquestioned . . . Twenty-four years of style leadership and specialization in quality merchandise speak for themselves at McCreery's.

So Very Chic That They Remain the Mode

Slip-on Gloves

Of Exquisite French Kid or Suede

$3.95



Soft doeskin, suede, or kid—all well-fitting and of fine quality that will tub well, making them practical as well as smart. With pinked tops.

Beige, mode, grey, white, biscuit, tan, black.

Boys' Four-Piece Suits of English Woolens

$16.50

The question of wear—most important in boys' clothing—has received its full quota of attention in the fashioning of these unusual suits.

First of all, the woolens are from England—guaranteeing the sturdiness that withstands hardest use. Then they are tailored beyond the point of smart appearance. All pockets and belt loops, for instance, are bar tacked to prevent tearing; coats are lined with durable mohair; and vest and trousers are full lined.

This, with the inimitable swank of new British-loomed fabrics and the perfect fit expected in all boys' wearables at McCreery.

Grey, brown and tan mixtures—two- and three-button collegiate models—sizes 7 to 16.

(McCreery—Fifth Floor)

In the Specialized Small Misses' Section

Sizes 13, 15 and 17

Ensemble Frocks

Consisting of jersey skirt and coat with modernist printed silk blouse. The skirts pleated in new manner, the blouses banded with jersey, the coats touched with prints. Available in the new tropical pastels — rose, blue, green, beige.

$16.50

Printed Frocks

Created in so many sprightly modes that selecting the most fetching is difficult. Some with the handkerchief tie at the neck, others with the Spanish shawl girdle, pleated skirts, with bows at the neck, with jabots.

$16.50

Larmee Frocks

Sportive and yet with a definite quality of rich bright beauty, these frocks with metal threaded knitted tops and silk crepe skirts in flesh pink, egg shell, French blue, polo green, etc. Dresses mademoiselle will favor for dancing at the club or for an evening at bridge.

$25.00

PATRICIA PITT'S COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Pittsburghers Are Entertained in Eastern Cities Before Going to Southland

EVERY day we hear about entertainments being given in other cities for members of the Pittsburgh society set. Not all these festivities are taking place in the South, either. In New York and Philadelphia the season is still "on" with the social calendars filled with debutante parties, balls, and dinners. Before going south a goodly number of Pittsburghers go to one of these eastern cities to visit their friends and participate in the final social events of the winter.

Among these is Miss Aurelia Stoner, of Sewickley, who is spending some time with her friend, Mrs. Charles V. McLean, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. McLean is planning many entertainments for her house guest. On Saturday she will give a luncheon for her, and on Monday afternoon and on the following day she will honor Miss Stoner with bridge luncheons.

Mrs. William McClay Hall, who has been spending the winter in California, has cut short her visit to come back to the city to lead the final membership drive of the Pittsburgh Symphony Society. Mrs. Hall, as you probably know, is president of the society.

It has become quite the traditional thing—and a very pleasant tradition it is—for alumnae of the various schools to form groups within their own cities, whose members will have a chance to recall the various escapades of their boarding school days. The Castle Alumnae, of the Castle School, Tarrytown, N. Y., is holding a luncheon today in the University Club, with a speaker who is well known to them, Miss C. E. Mason, the head of the school.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold A. Miller are to give a dinner, I hear, on Monday, at the University Club, for Miss Mason.

A late February wedding added interest to the social life yesterday. Elizabeth Maxwell, daughter of Mrs. William McNair Maxwell, of Squirrel Hill, and Robert G. Eckhardt, of Morewood avenue, were married at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in St. Andrew's Lutheran Church. The bride wore a gown of white satin, trimmed with duchess lace, fashioned with a graceful court train, and a veil of tulle arranged with a band of lace. She carried white roses and orchids, showered with lilies of the valley.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Jacob Black Graham, appeared in pale yellow georgette and wore a hat of yellow, with long streamers of black ribbon. Orchid georgette gowns and orchid hats with black streamers were worn by the bridesmaids, Margaret Louise Eckhardt and Mrs. Edwin Crawford Robinson. All the bridal attendants carried spring flowers.

Edgar C. Eckhardt was his brother's best man, and Dr. Jacob Black Graham, Carl Reger, James Irwin Martin and Edwin Crawford Robinson were the ushers. The Rev. Dr. H. P. Eckhardt, father of the bridegroom, was the officiant.

The mother of the bride was gowned in beige georgette, trimmed with satin crepe and ecru lace, with a hat to match, and the mother of the bridegroom appeared in rose georgette with hat to harmonize.

The altar of the church was banked with orchids, daffodils and lilacs, which imparted a spirit of spring to the ceremony.

A dinner in the Morrowfield for the immediate families followed the wedding. After a trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Eckhardt will return in the spring and will reside on Shady avenue.

The mid-winter ball of the Highland Country Club will be held tonight, the first of these annual affairs to be given in the new clubhouse. Dr. J. M. Mullen is chairman of the committee in charge of the dance.

* * *

"The Trysting Place," a farce-comedy by Booth Tarkington, will be given tomorrow night by the Pittsburgh Alliance of the Delta Delta Delta national social sorority in the Alpha Theta chapter house, University of Pittsburgh. In the cast are Miss Elizabeth O. Miller, Mrs. George W. Stewart, Mrs. Donnel D. Reed, Miss Anna Barbara Brant, Mrs. L. E. Bowman and Miss Frances Irwin.

PREJUDICE IS ARTIFICIAL PRODUCT, WOMEN TOLD

"Prejudice of any kind, whether racial, religious or national, is not instinctive with the human soul, but is an artificial product of social experience and can be eradicated." The speaker was the Rev. John Hayes Holmes, pastor of the Community Church of New York, who was addressing the Sisterhood of the Rodef Shalom Temple yesterday afternoon. To demonstrate, Dr. Holmes stressed three points—that children are without prejudice until it is suggested to them; that prejudice is largely a matter of geography and that it exists between groups of the same people. "For instance," he said, "the German Jew will try to make the Russian Jew believe that Jehovah speaks and understands only German."

Dr. Holmes told of an experiment, one to which he referred as "a desperate experiment at the expense of the children," being worked out (at present with perfect success) by a college-bred childless couple who have legally adopted two little white girls, one a Jew and the other a Gentile, and a little Negro girl, all of about the same age.

The problem of prejudice, Dr. Holmes said, is one of social education and can be solved by standardizing culture (a great mass of prejudice comes from a difference in cultural levels), by doing away with religion that is not all-inclusive and by eradicating the economic factors of rivalry and competition. The Californians were never prejudiced against the yellow men until the latter became their rivals in farming, he declared.

Mrs. Frederick Johnson presided at the meeting, which was followed by the tea hour and an exhibit of the work done under auspices of the Council of Jewish Women's League for the Handicapped.

Something new and novel in the way of club events has been planned by the Woman's City Club for March 30 and 31. It will be a spring fashion show in the ballroom of the William Penn Hotel. Local firms have been invited to participate and their buyers are already searching the smartest ateliers of France for the unusual modes that will make the City Club's venture rival the most exclusive Paris opening. Many special features are being planned in conjunction with the fashion show. Tables may be engaged during the afternoons for tea or for coffee suppers in the evening.

A talk on spring fashions by Miss Cecelia Van Steenburg, piano solos by Mrs. Edna Tilghman Eckley, and songs by Mrs. J. E. Beachler, with Mrs. J. B. Henry accompanying, made up an interesting program for yesterday's meeting of the Aspinwall Woman's Club. Mrs. M. B. Creasy and Mrs. John Konstanzer were in charge of a bake sale and Mrs. F. B. Harbison was chairman of the tea hour. Tomorrow afternoon the club's evening department will have a bridge benefit in the clubhouse.

"Always" and "never" are in the same category with "don'ts" and should be used sparingly, thinks Dr. Mary Bidwell Breed, director of Margaret Morrison College, who spoke before the Outlook Alliance yesterday. Russell Mitchell, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. J. D. Boydston, sang, and Mrs. D. Edwin Miller gave an illustrated talk on home safety. The program followed luncheon.

A cake has fallen!

When one of our cakes falls, dear madam, you never hear of it. Yet it makes a great hullaballoo in our own bakery. It's of great concern to us. We find out why it fell and the next time we bake one that stands up, proudly—chest out. We make this our standard so that you may buy one like it.

Among our proud cakes are Sunshine Devils Food, Sunshine Chocolate Fingers, and Sunshine Fruit Cake. It's worth saying "Sunshine" to your grocer.

Sunshine ..well worth saying whenever you want BISCUITS

LOOSE-WILES BISCUIT CO.

Of course it's BETTER

Otherwise it wouldn't be America's most popular margarine

There are two good reasons why Jelke GOOD LUCK consistently outsells all other margarines.

First, it has a flavor which can't be told from that of expensive spreads-for-bread.

Second, it is rich in food elements, including vitamines, on which growing children thrive.

The better flavor and greater food value of GOOD LUCK result from the use of nutritious meat products instead of the cheaper vegetable oils used in most margarines.

Try GOOD LUCK, on your table and in cooking, and see how much better it is. Your grocer sells it at a most attractive price.

New!..Beads of Soap

....make dishes sparkle

HERE'S an astonishing new soap for washing dishes. A soap that's easier ... quicker ... better than any you have ever used before.

It's an entirely new form of soap ... that leaves no film on dishes ... that saves drying ... that cannot harm the smoothness of your skin. Millions use it daily ... acclaim it the greatest soap improvement in twenty-five years.

Super Suds is actually soap in tiny, thin-walled "beads" ... the result of a revolutionary manufacturing discovery.

No other soap is like it. No other gives the same unique results.

You can see the difference the instant you pour it into your dishpan. See it in the quick-acting suds.

See it in the lustrous polish on your dishes and in the velvet smoothness of your hands.

Won't you, in fairness to yourself, try Super Suds at once? It's only ten cents for a big-size box!

TUSS EXPLAINS DOWNFALL

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 17.—(INS.)—Head Coach Tuss McLaughry of the Brown University football team today explained the fall of his 1927 "Iron Men." He said: "We took too much for granted last fall and were defeated before we left the training camp."

SHOTS and PASSES
by Julius Levin

THE Mellon National Bank team, winners of the Pittsburgh Bankers' League championship of last winter, have arranged a two-game series with the famous Union Trust Company quintet of Cleveland, rated as one of the strongest teams in its class in the country.

Al Thomas, manager of the Mellon passers, has completed arrangements to meet the Cleveland passers in the Forest City on February 25 and in the University of Pittsburgh Stadium pavilion on March 5.

The Union Trust quintet boasts an enviable floor record throughout Ohio, listing among its victims the Enoch Rauh club of the Allegheny County League. The Rauhs dropped a hard-fought game to the Ohioans at Public Hall in the preliminary to the recent Rochnblum-Rochester American League game.

An effort was made to obtain Public Hall for the Mellon-Union Trust game, but plans fell through and the contest will be played in the auditorium of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland.

INDICATIONS are that the Duquesne Lafayettes will not have to go through an elimination series to retain their laurels as Allegheny County League champions, judging by their showing to date.

The Lafayettes won the first-round honors, suffering only one defeat and that in the last game of the schedule, losing to the Goose Goslins. The Lafayettes started the second round in the same manner, but were checked momentarily by the Rauhs at Columbus Temple, suffering their worst defeat in years.

The Allegheny County League champions, however, lost little time in regaining their winning stride, turning the tables on the Rauhs in a return game at Duquesne.

While the remaining contenders have failed to set a consistent pace in the league race, the Lafayettes, with only two exceptions, have swept aside all that attempted to block their path to the title.

According to reports, the third cycle of the County League schedule may not be played, as Braddock and Butler have withdrawn from the loop, leaving only four contenders in the race.

DRIBBLES

After the game with the St. Michaels Sokols of Homestead tonight at the Market House, the Goldensons of the South Side will turn their attention to the contest with the Nebi Bottlers of Farrell, one of the best independent clubs in Mercer county. The Shenango valley quintet will invade the Market House next Friday night.

Tonight at the One Hundred Seventy-Sixth Field Artillery Armory the North Side Community House passers, favorites to win the annual A. A. U. championship, clashes with the Penn Five of Sharpsburg. Community House is eager to make up for its poor showing against Westminster College last Saturday and will be out to get revenge at the expense of the Penn Five.

Bill Miller and Wy Paris have been playing brilliant basketball for the Enoch Rauh club this season. Both are veteran performers of the Rauhs and seem to improve with each contest.

Officials sponsoring the benefit basketball carnival for the miners in this vicinity, are making an effort to book the Duquesne Lafayettes to meet the Cleveland Rosenblums in the feature attraction at

Will Direct Confab Here

By TOM BIRKS.

ANDREW BROWN, president of the United States Soccer Football Association, will hold a meeting here tomorrow evening at 7:30 p. m. to hear the charges preferred by local soccer men against the former president and secretary of the Western Pennsylvania [illegible], and which resulted in the election of a new [illegible] to finish out the season.

While the president [illegible] ognizes the new officials, there are probably some points that he wishes to clear up. With this in mind, all delegates, managers, players and fans should attend the special meeting. Especially those that have played a part in the recent upheaval in the removing of officials. Being a man that likes first-hand information it is very probable that the leader of soccer will go to the bottom of the affair.

There is every reason to feel that two of the largest Saturday crowds in the history of the soccer sport will watch the semi-finals of the West Penn senior cup set for Westinghouse High School field this week and next. The first game tomorrow will find Pittsburgh Rovers, former holders of the championship, meeting the German Sport Club, new to cup tie fights.

On Sunday the Harmarville-Swissvale replayed tie will be staged at Harmarville. This was the date set by the national amateur cup committee, and the close score in the first meeting indicates the fact that another good game will result.

MILLER GETS JOB AS F. & M. GRID COACH

LANCASTER, Pa., Feb. 17.—(AP.)—Dr. Jonathan K. (Puss) Miller, assistant football coach at the University of Pennsylvania, has been elected head football coach at Franklin and Marshall College. He will take up his duties with the opening of spring practice here.

WEAR NAMED TENNIS HEAD

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 17.—Joseph W. Wear, president of the Philadelphia Interclub Lawn Tennis Association has accepted the chairmanship of the Davis cup committee, succeeding Julian S. Myrick, who held the post during the seven years successful reign of America's leading stars in international competition.

Wear, who is a nationally-known sportsman, has distinguished himself in baseball, racquets, court tennis and lawn tennis. In court tennis and racquets alone he has carried off 10 national United States doubles titles.

Wear first won national distinction as Yale's center fielder in 1896, 1897, 1898 and 1899.

STANLEY PHILLIPS SCORES QUICK KAYO

A capacity crowd attended the amateur boxing show staged by the St. Nicholas Lyceum in Masonic Hall, last night. Stanley Phillips, hard-hitting southpaw of the North Side knocked out Frankie Harper, Negro scrapper, in 15 seconds of the first round, and Hugh Fetzer of the North Side A. C. knocked out Howard Watkins, Negro, in two rounds.

In other bouts, Jimmy Joyce defeated Jimmy Hickey in three rounds, Joe Pace defeated Jake Amato in four rounds, Harry McGraw won over Fritz Cody and Red Griffin defeated Art Plaze in three rounds.

Former Rugby Star to Seek Ring Fame

MARSEILLES, France, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—Graduating from the rugby field to the ring, Gabriel Morere is a candidate for heavyweight boxing honors.

A huge man, two inches over six feet and weighing 225 pounds, Morere was several times selected to represent France in international matches against England, Scotland and Wales. He played in the line and as he was so prone to adopt a "rock 'em and sock 'em" type of play, referees were continually warning him.

In a match against a New Zealand team, Referee Bradburn, of England, after cautioning Morere twice for pugilistic endeavors, sent him to the side lines.

"If you want to fight, why don't you go into the ring?" were the referee's parting words.

Morere thought it over and after the match announced that he was willing to meet any of the French heavyweights. He also took in the English heavies, adding that rugby referees, Bradburn preferred, would be accommodated first.

Bucs, Cougars Tied For Third Place

OTTAWA, Feb. 17.—The Ottawa Senators are thanking their lucky stars today that Alex Connell, their star goal tender, was in fine form last night and determined to increase his string of perfect games. They met the onrushing Pittsburgh Pirates, and while they checked the Buccos for four periods without permitting the visitors to score, they were unable to tally themselves. The game ended in a scoreless deadlock.

It was somewhat of a costly tie for the Bucs, for the Detroit Cougars clambered back into the play-off ranking again by toppling Montreal, 1-0, and are now tied with the Pirates for the third place position.

Ottawa slightly outplayed the Pittsburghers in last night's encounter, though the advantage was never great by any means. Goal-tender Worters of the Pirates played a sensational game, stopping shot after shot that was labeled and ticketed for a goal.

In the second period, Connell barely nicked Tex White's sizzling long shot, tipping it just enough to deflect the disc and send it scooting past the cage instead of into it for a goal. It was a tough break for White, who had pierced the Ottawa defense in fine fashion. The lineup:

Pittsburgh—0.		Ottawa—0.
Worters	G	Connell
Burke	D	G. Boucher
McCaffrey	D	Clancy
Miller	C	Nighbor
Darragh	W	Rivers
Cotton	W	Finnigan

Spares—Pittsburgh: R. Smith, McCurry, Drury, White, McKinnon. Ottawa: A. Smith, Broadbent, Denneny, Grosvenor, Gotta.

First period—Scoring, none.
Second period—Scoring, none. Penalty—Boucher.
Third period—Scoring, none.
Extra period—Scoring, none. Penalties—Burke and Kilrea.
Referee—Lou Marsh and R. Hewitson.

AMATEURS TO BOX AT LYCEUM TONIGHT

An amateur boxing tournament that will gather in many of the more noted young ringmen of the district, will be held tonight in the Pittsburgh Lyceum, 119 Washington street.

The Pittsburgh Lyceum boxers will mix it with the best amateur men of the city in the respective weights. Trophies, given by the Lyceum, will go to the best battlers.

Seven bouts are scheduled, with that of Jimmie Rooney of the North Side Rooneys and Buck McTiernan of Swissvale, one of the features. This is in the 175-pound class. Others will be Tom Maico vs. Hugh Fetzer, North Side A. C. 160 pounders; R. Hrophio and Joe Blain of North Side A. C. 145 pounds; Syl Pastorius and Joe Laird of North Side A. C. 126 pounds, and Tom Veerio and Mike Fortunato of Mt. Washington, 126-pond class.

Reed Brown, new coach of the Lyceum, is sponsoring the show.

PLAN TO INCREASE PARK

GUTHRIE RETURNS AS A. L. UMPIRE

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—(INS.)—William J. Guthrie, veteran umpire, today was added to the American League staff by President E. S. Barnard, completing the roster of 12 arbiters who will work in the circuit this season.

The appointment of Guthrie means his return to the organization after an absence of five years. He was a member of the umpiring corps of the league for a short time in 1923 and since then has worked in the Pacific Coast League, Southern Association and American Association. He was employed in the latter circuit last year.

Clarence Rowland, former White Sox manager, a member of last year's umpiring staff, was not reappointed.

—then the Break-down!

No warning except perhaps a persistent tiredness—then a sudden breakdown and an "old man" overnight! That is the fate of many men today who live at the twentieth century pace. One of the results of the killing pace is a weakening of the vital organs, especially the liver. The liver, "laying down," fails to cleanse the blood of the poisons formed in food waste. Then an insidious poisoning of the system—toxemia—and a general undermining of health, with high blood pressure, kidney trouble, hardening of the arteries and premature old age.

If you would keep in A1 condition, physicians say keep the liver vigorous and active. Nothing better for this than a little ox gall. As the medical profession knows, ox gall is a remarkable natural stimulant for the liver, building up its strength and activity. The genuine pure ox gall is to be had in dainty and tasteless form in Dioxol tablets. Each tablet represents 10 drops of pure ox gall and costs less than 2c each, at good druggists. Be sure you get Dioxol, with the name and picture of an ox's head on the package.

BEST IN PITTSBURGH FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1928 TWEN

SPORT COMMENT by JAMES J. LONG

Barney Dreyfuss

WHEN the Pirate advance guard that left here last night is joined in Paso Robles by the second division on February 28, the Pittsburgh club will come close to having more players in actual training than any other outfit in the big leagues will have this spring.

Though President Barney Dreyfuss has not signed the entire number to contracts, several of the younger athletes being taken merely on trial, there will be 39 pastimers in action in the Buccaneer camp when practice gets under way.

That's the biggest crew that the local club has taken on any spring trip in recent years, and one of the largest that will be registered in any training camp for 1928.

PITTSBURGH'S playing roster of 39, as revised up to date, shows five catchers, 17 pitchers, nine infielders and eight outfielders, counting Pete Scott as a fly chaser instead of a catcher, as follows:

Catchers—Smith, Gooch, Haeffner, Linton and Hemsley.

Pitchers—Kremer, Miljus, Grimes, Hill, Meadows, Dawson, Fussell, Peery, Leheny, Mahaffey, Tauscher, Walsh, Brame, Bartholomew, Spencer, Lindsey and John Deming. Four of these—Fussell, Peery, Leheny and Bartholomew—are left-handers.

Infielders — Traynor, Wright, Adams, Grantham, Cronin, Harris, Bartell, Gottlieber and Jones.

Outfielders—P. Waner, L. Waner, Comorosky, Scott, Barnhart, Brickell, T. Waner and Brewer.

BILL REGAN of Brookline, second sacker of the Boston Americans who, since he was purchased from the Columbus (O.) club in 1926, for Infielder McCann and a wad of cash has proved one of the most valuable pickups of recent years in the junior major loop, is making preparations to leave one week from today to join his club for the training period at Bradentown, Fla.

Bill Regan

Regan's work last season was affected by a spring illness that prevented him from getting the right kind of start, but he says that at present he is in better physical shape than ever before in his career, and his friends are confident that he will have a big year.

The Brookline lad is well pleased with his Boston berth, and rates Bill Carrigan as one of the best managers and finest men in baseball.

REGAN says he can well understand why the Pirates had trouble with two of the Yankee pitchers in the World Series last fall.

"I think George Pipgras is going to be a really great pitcher," he said, "and I do not hesitate to say that Wiley Moore is the best relief hurler I ever saw."

Bill declares there is a number of pitchers in the American League

His opponent was one Johnny Roberts.

HIS WIN THROWN OUT

IRVING JAFFEE

His victory will not be accepted and the event will be erased from the Olympic winter sports program—this was the decision handed down by the executive committee of the International Olympic Committee after Irving Jaffee, of New York, had hung up a mark of 18 minutes, 36 5-10 seconds to lead the field in the 10,000 meter skating race at St. Moritz, Switzerland. A warm sun softened the ice and boosted the times of the late starters. The Olympic chiefs ruled this action of the sun unfair, and, although the Yankees protested vigorously, they have refused to admit Jaffee's win to the records.

1903 Bucs Set Fine Record

IT would be hard to tell the long-time followers of baseball that the pitchers of today are better than those of 25 years ago.

As Exhibit A in support of the oldtimers' argument a score card is introduced on this page. The original hangs in the office of the Pirates at Forbes Field. It contains a world's record for shutout

Semi-Pro Team Uses Hand Car To Play Game

GREENFIELD, Ill., Feb. 17.—(AP.)—The independent basketball team of Carrollton, Ill., pumped its way 11 miles on a Chicago and Alton Railroad handcar to keep a scheduled appointment last night and took a 58 to 8 beating at the hands of the Greenfield team.

Impassable roads, and mud knee-deep, proved no bar to the cagers, and they commandeered the hand car, tired when they arrived, but ready to play.

Record Defies Time

HERO IN BIG FEAT

Deacon Phillippe, one of the Pirate pitchers who set up the major league record in 1903 that still stands. He won two of the series of six straight shutout victories. Picture, taken at Forbes Field last season, shows Phillippe as he appears today. He's a ringer for Jim Corbett, isn't he?

SIX STRAIGHT SHUTOUTS TURNED IN BY PIRATE PITCHERS

Here's a major league record that has withstood all assaults over a period of 25 years. It is the run of six consecutive shutouts compiled by Pitchers Phillippe, Leever, Wilhelm and Doheny back in 1903. Barney Dreyfuss, president of the Pirates, has the record framed and hanging in his office at Forbes Field. Note the spelling of Pittsburgh without the "h" on the end, for that was the proper spelling of the city's fair name in those days. Also notice that Deacon Phillippe's name is spelled with an "e" on the end in one place and with an "i" in the other. The fans then, as today, quarreled about the proper spelling of the old Deacon's name. The Deacon himself says Phillippe is correct.

A FAMOUS boxing firm has just been dissolved. The B & B, combine of New York is through. No longer will boxers be fighting under the colors of Bronson and Brown, otherwise Jimmy Bronson and Lou Brown. The party of the second part has dropped out of the firm to devote his full time to his moving picture work and Bronson will go the fight racket alone, or may take in Jersey Jones as a partner.

This is interesting news for Pittsburgh fans inasmuch as Bronson and Brown have guided the des-

WOLGAST MAY DRILL HERE

Midget Wolgast of Philadelphia may arrive here a day ahead of schedule for his 10-round main bout with Willie Davies at Motor Square Garden next Monday night. John Hernon, manager of the Garden, announced today, in the absence of Matchmaker Johnny Ray, who is sojourning at West Baden, Ind.

The Midget is not due until Sunday, but his manager, Al Lippe, will make an effort to get him here tomorrow morning so the local fans can see him go through his paces in the Motor Square gym tomorrow afternoon and Sunday. Word from Lippe is that Wolgast is in fine fettle and confident he will repeat his Philadelphia victory over Davies before Willie's home town fans.

The preliminary card stands as at first announced, with Jack Katkish and Nick Susnell meeting again in the eight-round semi-final, Harry Taylor and Jack Simmons mixing in the second bout of six rounds and Eddie Jiggers opposing Johnny Riley in the opener.

Urban Shocker Joins Baseball Retired List

By Universal Service.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 17.—Urban Shocker, who won 18 games and lost six for the Yankees in 1927 has announced his permanent retirement from baseball. As evidence of his sincerity, Shocker has presented a copy of a telegram he sent to Business Manager Edward Barrow, which read:

"Received letter. Due consideration of present state of affairs urges me to voluntarily retire from major league baseball for the furtherance of my business interests at home."

"I hold only the highest regard for Mr. Ruppert and Manager Huggins, and I hope they will win the pennant next season, eased up."

Local baseball fans all have heard of the Swetonic brothers. There's quite a family of them and all are good baseball players. Who are exceptional fingers.

"Asked if he had had much trouble with Eddie Rommel's famous fadeaway or knuckle ball, Regan replied: "Plenty. Batting against that pitch is like trying to hit a butterfly."

THE high spot in Pittsburgh's college basketball season will be reached tonight and tomorrow night, when the crack basketball team of the University of Notre Dame will perform here.

Captain Jachym

The South Benders will open their engagement tonight by playing Carnegie Tech on the Tartans' floor, and tomorrow night they will appear at the Pitt stadium, where they will clash with the unbeaten Panthers, who have won 14 games in a row.

This is not the first visit of a Notre Dame floor team to this city, as the Hoosiers sent a quintet here three years ago, only to suffer defeat at the hands of Carnegie Tech.

Last year George Keogan's charges played Pitt in South Bend and were victorious.

Indications are that the visitors will draw capacity crowds at both Carnegie Tech and Pitt, interest centers largely in the possibility of their breaking Pitt's run of 14 consecutive victories. Panther adherents are looking for a victory by a margin of 10 points.

EDDIE MOORE, former Pirate, is not to fight for the third base job on the Boston National League team this spring, as Manager Slattery announced a few days ago.

Slattery has changed his mind, and according to his latest announcement Moore will start the season in the outfield. Present plans call for Moore to play center field, with Brown in left and Richbourg in right.

Eddie Moore

The Braves' pilot figures that Brown would be the logical man for center field, were it not for the weakness of his throwing arm, but says that under the circumstances he will put Moore in the middle pasture.

Moore is expected to show improved form under Slattery, as much of his trouble last year is said to have been due to a breach between him and Manager Bancroft resulting from a play at Forbes Field for which Eddie was fined $200.

BROOKLYN is the latest big league club to give the impression that it might be willing to consider the signing of Ty Cobb. At least if Manager Robinson and his supporters among the club owners desire to take a chance with Cobb, the other faction on the club, headed by Steve McKeever, will not oppose the step.

Ty Cobb

If Wilbert Robinson wants to sign Cobb," says McKeever, "I'll back him up. I've never interfered in any way when he wanted to buy a ball player. In fact, I've left the management of the club entirely in his hands. So far as I'm concerned, he can buy, sell or trade players at his own discretion."

Asked if he thought Cobb might help the Brooklyn club this season, McKeever nodded.

"I'd like to see Brooklyn have a good team," he said, "and it was pretty apparent that the club needed hitting strength last season. It lost more than 30 games by one run. With a good hitter like Cobb playing every day, how many of those games would have been in Brooklyn's winning column instead of the other way around. Plenty, I'll bet."

tract no little interest, for both teams are exceptionally good this year. But with the title at stake, and with Schenley seeking revenge for the decisive licking they were handed by the Fifth team earlier in the season, the contest takes on an added amount of interest.

The game is scheduled to begin at 8:30 p. m.

Over in Section II, Allegheny and Oliver will clash in another important struggle. Allegheny is at present tied for the sectional lead with South Hills, which was defeated last week in a great game. Oliver boasts a crack team, and unless the Atkinson team plays real basketball, the good work of last week, when South Hills was beaten, will have gone for naught.

This game will be on the Oliver High court and will be played in the afternoon.

BOARD OF TRADE ENDORSES EUCHRE

The Homewood Board of Trade has endorsed the dance and card party to be held for the benefit of the Homewood baseball club of the Allegheny County League at McDougall's auditorium at Penn and Shady avenues, East Liberty, next Monday night.

The business men of the district are loyally behind this effort to put the Homewood club on its feet, and provide funds for it to put on the field the coming season one of the strongest semi-pro ball clubs in the history of the district.

Elaborate plans have been made for Monday night's affair, and a big turnout of fans is anticipated.

Scorers' Error Robs Penn Of Tie

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 17.—(INS.) — Although Dartmouth gained first place in the Eastern Collegiate Basketball League by handing Penn a 30-to-29 defeat here last night, a dozen Philadelphia and New York newspapermen signed affidavits that the University scorers overlooked a foul toss by Joe Schaaf, Red and Blue forward, thereby depriving Penn of a tie.

Penn protested the game and the matter was referred to league headquarters for settlement.

Even without the disputed point, Schaaf was high scorer with nine points.

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., Feb. 17.—Event No. 3 for stock car trials, for cars costing $2,000 and over, scheduled for 10 o'clock today, has been postponed until tomorrow on account of rain and wet condition of the beach.

Notwithstanding the heavy condition of the beach yesterday, Capt. Malcolm Campbell started a trial spin in the Blue Bird at 11:20 this morning and made four rounds of the beach, warming up at 176 miles per hour when his car rose on a slight upward slope in the sand and made a long jump, estimated at between 50 and 100 feet, bending the rear fender and cracking the fan, which were speedily repaired.

Victor May Meet Champ

By ROBERT A. HEREFORD,
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—In one of those popular "rubber" bouts, Ace Hudkins, the Lincoln (Neb.) Wildcat, and Sergt. Sammy Baker will meet in Tex Rickard's New Madison Square Garden tonight.

The 10-round rumpus is called a "rubber" bout because the two welterweights have met in the squared circle twice before. Each has a victory to his credit. So to borrow the term from the gentler game of bridge the fight is the decisive and rubber contest.

One hot night last June, Sergt. Sammy won from the ferocious wildcat by a technical knockout in the seventh round of their Polo Grounds setto. A head-on collision—and the "head-on" is used literally—opened a sanguinary gash over the Ace's eye. The referee stopped the bout.

Recently the Wildcat and the soldier boy engaged in another little spat, this time choosing the Pacific coast for their battleground, and the Wildcat clawed the fighting man rather badly to win the decision.

Upon the outcome of the "rubber" bout tonight depends a welterweigh title match with the outlaw champion, Baltimore Joe Dundee. Champion Dundee is an outlaw in New York and California because of his recent "runout" in the Golden State.

The red-headed Nebraskan is favored in the betting by the odds of 2 to 1. The "Ace" is a popular Broadway attraction. Lincoln, Neb., has sent championship wrestlers, championship runners and championship football teams to perform before Eastern crowds. It will be considered rather the natural thing for Hudkins to whip Baker once more and then win the title from Dundee to give the Cornh sker city a world championship fighter.

When the McKeesport Cyclers meet the great Corry Keystones at McKeesport tomorrow night, Whitey Littell, star Beaver valley forward, will be back in the Tubers' lineup. Littell was signed by Cleveland of the American League after the Rosies were defeated by the Cyclers, but decided to return home.

Butler, which is threatening to withdraw at the close of the second-round schedule of the Allegheny County League, is the attraction of the Broadway club of Beechview tonight. If Broadway is successful in having its full strength on the floor, the Veterans of Foreign Wars are in for a busy evening.

The chances of the J. J. Mistes to repeat in the second-half of the P. & O. League race are almost worthless as a result of suffering a defeat at the hands of the Reliance Life team. The Junkers in the meantime strengthened their hold on first place by defeating the B. L. Succops.

pitching in the great sport.

You will note that the 1903 Pirate champions, with Fred Clarke at the helm, blanked the enemy in six successive games. Nothing like this has taken place in the majors before or since the accomplishment.

Deacon Phillippe, Sam Leever, Irving Wilhelm and Ed Doheny were the four stars who achieved the record-breaking feat. Philippi and Leever, two of the greatest, won two games each in the shutout siege.

The Giants, the Braves and the Phillies were the scoreless victims of invincible pitching.

Yes, Barney Dreyfuss is so proud of this record he keeps it on display in a conspicuous place in his office. Perhaps it acts as a stabilizer to more than one youngster who think they are some "punkins" on the slab.

The Lincoln club of the Western League equaled the Pirates' record when it won six shutout contests in a row from Denver, Pueblo and Des Moines. The scores were 5-0, 3-0, 5-0, 6-0, 7-0, 3-0.

COMMENTING on reports that two officers of the newly-organized American Duckpin Congress had resigned their positions because of uncalled-for interference in the selection of the governing body, Raymond A. Turpen, chairman of the board of directors, American Duckpin Congress, this afternoon issued the following statement:

"I regret that a few bowlers and alley owners in Pittsburgh have a mistaken impression of the American Duckpin Congress, its organization and its functions.

"Four hundred men of unquestioned integrity for the backbone of the American Duckpin Congress and new members are being enrolled every day, according to our secretary. Someone has intentionally made a mountain out of a molehill and a full statement of the organization, aims, purposes and activities to date of the American Duckpin Congress will be given in a statement which will be issued later by Secretary George B. Wessa, who has been the only active officer since the formation of the A. D. C."

According to reports, George Schmitt, Jr., president, and C. V. Davis, treasurer, have quit their posts because they did not want to continue as mere "figure-heads."

Billy Greenwood of Ellis' gets a chance to cut down the lead that Bob Carter of Kalmer's holds over him for the Pittsburgh Three-Cushion Billiard League lead when he meets Billy Eichenmiller of Rudy's at Ellis' tonight. Although Greenwood is the favorite, Eichenmiller must be taken seriously, as he is capable of turning in an exceptionally good game when he is right.

Black, bowling for the champions in the Dragon Storage Battery Duckpin League, turned in the best score this week with 141 for his first game. He came back with 132 in the second, and finished the evening's work with 111 in his third game.

Saturday dates still are open for the annual tenpin tournament scheduled at Harry Votel's alleys in East Pittsburgh from February 27 to March 10. This year's entry list is the largest ever compiled for the event, according to its sponsors.

Stocker's Junkers, composed of Midgeley, Staab, Scully, Wassick and Barr, are setting the pace in the Sheraden B. P. O. E. Bowling League. This team leads in high team scoring for three games and in the high scorers for one game.

Moschel, star bowler of the Transit team of the Bank of Pittsburgh League, turned in three good games this week with scores of 160, 166 and 183.

The Donora-Rex bowling team in a Mon-Valley League match game with Clairton rolled a total of 2467 pins, using regulation 5-8 rubber bands, as sanctioned by the new American Duckpin Congress. The scores were 946, 866 and 655. Fritz Killcullen contributed a total of 616 pins, with 246, 184 and 191. P. McMahon rolled 536, F. Sukel 518, M. Wallo 510, M. Fowler 478.

"Kid Nichols' Kids," the youngest team ever entered in a national bowling tournament, will compete in the American Bowling Congress in Kansas City in March.

The team consists of five Kansas City boys, whose average age is 15 years. Charles A. (Kid) Nichols, former pitcher for the Boston Nationals and later with the St. Louis and Philadelphia National League clubs, organized and trained them.

Charles (Bud) Tierney, 12 years old, is the youngest member of the team. The others are H. L. Everett, Jr., captain; Robert Bowles, LeVergne Hammond and Ray Lisle.

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—Young Jake Schaefer, world's champion at 18.2 balkline billiards, wound up an eight-game series last night as winner over Welker Cochran, former titleholder, 2,737 to 2,185, in a total of 44 innings. Cochran won three of the 400-point blocks and Schaefer five.

In the third block Schaefer ran 400 points, an entire block, for the third highest score ever made in a professional match.

Canucks Cop Hockey Duel

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—The United States captured first and second places in the single bobsleigh race of the winter Olympic games this morning. Jack Heaton of New York was first, J. R. Heaton, second, and the Earl of Northesk, Great Britain, third.

The races were staged over a 1,469-yard course down the famous Cresta run, which, with the return of cold weather, was a sheet of glittering ice.

Each pilot made the trip three times, the total of the time required to negotiate the course determining the winners.

The standing at the conclusion of the race was: Jack Heaton, 3 minutes 18-10 seconds; J. R. Heaton, 3 minutes 28-10 seconds, and Lord Northesk, 3 minutes 51-10 seconds.

At the end of the second run down the course the total times were: Jack Heaton, 2 minutes 41-10 seconds; J. R. Heaton, 2 minutes, 18-10 seconds.

SHORT OF WORLD MARK

Jack Heaton's best time was 60 2-10 seconds, which was two seconds slower than the world's record, held by the Earl of Northesk.

France, Austria, Italy and Switzerland also competed.

Heaton's was the first official American victory. Since the awarding of the 10,000-meter speed skating title to Irving Jaffee of New York was over-ruled by International Skating Federation because of soggy ice after Jaffee and five other contestants had finished their heats.

Canada beat Sweden, 11 to 0, today in the semi-finals of the Olympic hockey championships, and in the other semi-final match England defeated Switzerland, 9 to 4.

Sweden was unable to make any impression on the Canadians' offensive during the hockey game. The losers put up a stubborn defense, however.

The team-work of the Canadians was regarded as the best ever seen in Europe.

Dave Trottier, left wing, was the star of the Canadian team, scoring five of the goals.

Canada scored four goals in the first period, four in the second and three in the final.

BRONSON

tinies of a number of local boxers in recent years, including Jack and Pete Zivic, the Katkish brothers, Joe and Jack, Sandy Seifert, Joe (Boo) Ryan and others.

News of the breaking up of the firm comes in a letter from Brown in which he announces that he has sold out his interest in the boxers to Bronson because of pressure of his other business. The pair have parted the best of friends and all of the boxers will remain with Bronson, one of the most able handlers of mittmen in the business, as is attested by the fact that Champion Gene Tunney chose him to be his chief second in both of his bouts with Jack Dempsey. Jimmy is a former boxer, promoter and referee of many years' experience and one of the real gentlemen in the boxing game. Many will regret the passing from boxing of Brown, but they will be glad to know that Jim at least will remain of the famous partnership.

BAKER MAY SPILL DOPE

Don't be surprised if Sgt. Sammy Baker should upset the dope and hand Ace Hudkins another beating in their bout in Madison Square Garden, New York, tonight. The winner has been promised a titular match with Joe Dundee. Baker scored a technical knockout victory over Hudkins in New York last summer and then lost in a return bout on the Coast. He is a good straight puncher and the Ace is a wild-swinging, rough fighter who is very apt to fall an easy victim to an accurate, hard hitter.

Maxie Rosenbloom and Jack McVey will meet in the semi-final to the Hudkins-Baker bout and Andy Divodi will battle Jimmy Finley in one of the preliminaries.

Pete Firpo and Clarence Rosen, Detroit bantamweight rivals, meet for the fifth time in Detroit tonight. Jack Aspbery, former Sharon and Pittsburgh referee, will be the third man in the ring. Corp. Izzy Schwartz, the new flyweight champion, will meet Billy Shaw of Detroit and Frenchy Belanger, the Toronto contender for the laurels, engages Joey Ross of New York in other bouts on the same card.

Battling Levinsky boxes Jack Gagnon at Boston tonight. Jack Humbeck meets Jack DeMave and Bobby Brown, Cuban light-heavyweight, boxes Homer Robertson, former local middleweight, in other bouts.

CARNEGIE

Dame University basketball varsity, nursing a record as brilliant as any ever compiled by a college court team, pulled into Pittsburgh this morning for a two-day two-game stay, and took up its quarters at the Schenley Hotel. This is the ball club you and I and the rest of the boys have been waiting to see, sitting back saving our dough and throats for the game they are going to play with Pitt's undefeated Panthers tomorrow.

Tonight this city will get an initial glimpse of the Irish five when it takes the floor against defeat-weary Carnegie Tech Tartans. The game, which may develope into a tougher struggle than is generally anticipated, will give us all a chance to see what sort of a game the Irishers are playing this year, and to get some sort of a line on how they'll stack up against Pitt.

Notre Dame's record over the past four or five years stands out like a pair of tan shoes at a Ritz reception. To go into detail in telling about it would take up too much of your own and my own valuable time. Suffice to say that they have lost just four out of the last 44 games played, and have captured a total of 76 out of the 97 played since Keogan took over the reins at South Bend. They bump off the Big Ten fives with great ease, and have made life very miserable for the best teams in the conference during recent years.

It is unfortunate that they have been bumped off a couple of times already this season. Michigan State, after losing a tough three-extra period game at South Bend, defeated the Irish, 26-16, at East Lansing. Northwestern won over 'em earlier in the season, a week, in fact, after Pitt walloped the Purple.

The game at Tech tonight will necessitate wide-awake action on the part of the visitors. Tech, while they have yet to win a game, have been playing pretty fair basketball in recent games, especially against Pitt and Penn State. They didn't go so well against Geneva, but lost the game more because of some wooly substituting than anything else. If they play the game of which they are capable tonight, those Skibos will give Notre Dame a ball game.

The contest is scheduled to start at 8:30 p. m. There will be no preliminary. Fred Young, veteran and accomplished Western, or rather, mid-Western referee, will officiate as referee. Calvin Bolster of local fame will be there in the capacity of umpire.

Young will also referee the Pitt game, with Billie Beggs (Himself) Snyder wearing the red and white striped umpire's sweater.

Duquesne University's Dukes go East again tonight, and will play City College of New York tomorrow night. They will return home directly after the contest.

Duquesne is going O. K. right now. They've won over Waynesburg, Bucknell and American U. since that disastrous week in which they were defeated by Westminster and Geneva, losses that just about killed their conference title chances, regardless of how well they go from now on "in."

Geneva College faces one of its strongest opponents in Beaver Falls tonight when it clashes with Grove City College, while Bethany meets West Virginia Wesleyan at Bethany, W. Va.

THREE KAYOS FEATURE Y. M. H. A. AMATEUR SHOW

Three consecutive knockouts that started the program featured the amateur boxing show staged at the Y. M. H. A. last night. Nine bouts were on the program, four of them ending in knockouts.

In the first bout, Frank Ellis knocked out Jack McGahan in the second round. In the second, after a minute and 10 seconds of fighting, Edie Guba dropped Mike Hogan for the count. Joe Stauff ended the third bout about midway in the first round when he put Tom Farful to sleep.

Jim Rooney of the North Side was awarded Referee Henderson's decision over Leo Clemens in the feature bout of the evening.

Frank Lang lost to Sam Rossi when the referee stopped the fight in the third round after Lang had suffered a badly cut eye. A. De Luca knocked Dave Davis down three times to win the verdict in three rounds. DeLuca impressed the fans with his hard punching.

PIRATES

Carey, clubhouse boy. If Socko keeps up the form he displayed last night few will get much sleep on the long jaunt to California. He was up and around making a lot of noise long before others wanted to arise. It is predicted that Caleb will be tossed from the train by Earl Smith or some other husky about the time the flyer gets in the middle of the Arizona desert. By that time everybody's nerves will be frayed and there will just be a natural reaction.

ALL R'ARIN' TO GO

Sam Dreyfuss did not exactly put Pirate tags on the half dozen kids who came over from Pittsburgh, but he made sure that each remembered the Santa Fe station as the place of departure this afternoon. This city has as many stations as Pittsburgh has hills. There was little chance, however, of losing any of the corn-fed rookies. They were all around the station an hour before train time just like a bunch of humble home-bound Slovaks awaiting in a typical Erie Railroad station for the train that takes them to the boat. No rookie wants to miss the spring training train.

Burleigh Grimes, veteran spitball star, was the first replacement to join the Pirate brigade when it arrived in Chicago. Burleigh reached this city about the same time as the Pittsburgh party and he was soon in conversation with Manager Bush. The pilot of the Buccos is tickled to have Grimes—he likes his style.

Coach Oscar Stanage and Carmen Hill, Walter Tauscher, Lester Bartholomew, Ervin Brame and Glenn Spencer, pitchers, all wandered in to mix with the others. The entire group left for Kansas City at 1:35.

STOWAWAYS WITH CUBS

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—Two Chicago high school ball players joined Chicago's Cubs in their first day of spring training yesterday at Catalina Island, Cal., and their plea so impressed Manager Joe McCarthy that he let the youngsters chase fungoes in the outfield. They were Jack Calvey, 18, and Dan Haley, 19, who had traveled west by bus, sleeping nights in the bus to economize on their meagre savings.

If McCarthy judges them worthy of attention, he will endeavor to place them with some minor league club. Both aspire to be infielders.

Aside from the appearance of the two stowaways, the feature of the opening day's training was McCarthy's quick refusal to let Catcher Gabby Hartnett take a few swings at some curve ball offerings of Joe Bush. Batting practice was barred, McCarthy announced, firmly.

TWO GIANTS UNSIGNED

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—With Pitchers Larry Benton and Virgil Barnes on the lot at Hot Springs, Ark., training camp, the Giants today lacked only two of their batterymen, Vic Aldridge, who was acquired by New York from Pittsburgh in the deal for Burleigh Grimes, and Jess Doyle.

Barnes and Benton had brief workouts yesterday, the former turning over his signed contract to Secretary J. J. Tierney. The squad now numbers 18. Manager John McGraw is expected to join the Giants tomorrow.

BRAVES LEAVE TONIGHT

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—(INS.)—The Boston Braves' special leaves here tonight on the journey to the training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla. Although the party that leaves the Hub will not be large, it will be augmented by other players en route.

JOIE RAY MAY RUN IN NEW YORK MEET

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—The return of Joie Ray to the indoor tracks he forsook two years ago may occur in the K. of C. games in New York, February 29. Ray said today that time trials next week will determine whether he will send in his entry for the one mile race in which Dr. Otto Peltzer, German champion, and Lloyd Hahn, American champion, are matched, or decide upon the special two-mile run.

Ray had decided to try his speed in the Illinois A. C. games here last week, but Coach Johnny Behr at that time said Joie was not quite ready.

SOLMEN RALLIES TO BEAT SUB

Mickey Solmen, game New Castle boxer, ran into a substitute, a sock on the button and what was termed by many ringside witnesses a "long count" last night at the Palisades in McKeesport. He was booked to box Allen Beatty, hard-hitting Negro welter of McKeesport, but Beatty was suffering from an abscessed jaw and Jackie Murray was substituted.

In the fourth round, Murray loaded one up and it exploded on Solmen's jaw. Down went the New Castle standard-bearer and Referee Marty Deitz, after taking great pains to wave Jackie to his corner, began his count, which was considered a long one, at least a 12-second one, by those at the ringside. Solmen barely got to his feet, even at Deitz's toll of 10, but he rallied strongly, and was awarded the decision at the close of the bout.

In the second eight-rounder, Linn Jordan of Johnstown, a Negro boxer, handed Jack O'Connell, Cleveland, a lacing. In the semi-final, Andy Nanci, Swissvale, outpointed Andy Tomosky, Wilmerding, in six rounds and Jack Wells of Wheeling won a technical knockout over Elmo Clark of New Castle in the second round of the opening bout.

TWO WOMEN STARS BREAK OWN MARKS

BOSTON, Feb. 17.—(INS)—With a heave of 38 feet 10⅝ inches, Rena MacDonald broke her own national women's eight-pound shot record at Curtis Hall here last night. Mildred Wiley also broke a national record for women, her own, when she cleared 4 feet 11¾ inches in the running high jump.

RHEUMATISM, NEURITIS, PAIN

"Heet" Relieves Instantly

With applicator attached to cork, just brush "Heet" over the pain area, whether in knees, feet, legs, hands, shoulders, back, neck or body instantly, you feel this harmless, glorious, penetrating heat draw the pain, soreness and stiffness right out of the aching or swollen joint, muscle or nerve. Besides, "Heet" scatters the congestion and establishes a cure.

"Heet" contains two soothing, penetrating ingredients, too expensive to use in ordinary liniments or analgesics. "Heet" is a clean, pleasant liquid; doesn't stain, blister or irritate the skin and costs only 60 cents at any drug store.

Don't dope YOUR COUGH

IT is not wise to use remedies which depend upon "dope" such as narcotics, chloroform, cannabis or tar products. They may stop your cough temporarily by numbing the tissues, as most cough mixtures do, but this is not enough.

The inflamed air passages must be soothed naturally, the germ-laden mucus loosened and expelled in order to effect a lasting recovery.

PERTUSSIN assists Nature to accomplish these results in a remarkably short time—and it is absolutely harmless.

Los Angeles Fairly Bubbles Over With Enthusiasm.

—By B. C. FORBES—

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16.

THERE is only one Los Angeles. Other cities are growing rapidly, but Los Angeles grows more rapidly. Other cities have visions of big things to be, but Los Angeles has visions more ambitious still. In other cities you find enthusiasm; Los Angeles radiates it—almost boils over with it. Some other cities think they know how to advertise themselves, contrasted with Los Angeles, they are in the kindergarten class.

In a rash moment I accepted an invitation to talk to the local advertising club. The first thing I told the very large gathering was that the idea of any person from any other part of the country coming here to address Los Angeles advertising men struck me as worse than carrying coals to Newcastle.

The sober truth, however, is that Los Angeles has much to talk about, much to advertise.

THE criticism has been made—especially in Northern California—that Los Angeles has grown not only like topsy, but turvey, too, that its gangling expansion has been without rhyme and with very little reason.

Let me say very emphatically that if that ever was true—and perhaps it was—it is not true of the city's recent and present growth. Los Angeles has become a disciple of order and of beauty. Go-as-you-please spreading out is no longer permitted. Any old kind of structure, no matter how freakish, how "cheap," can no longer be dumped down in any old or odd spot. New sub-divisions are regulated a la the railroads, public utilities and banks.

A county planning commission controls every real estate subdivision in Los Angeles county. No land can be plotted into lots or small farms without strict regard to future needs for arterial highways, parks, school sites, etc., and a city planning commission exercises even more drastic powers.

Millions are being spent by Los Angeles in carrying out a scientific major street plan formulated by a board of expert authorities and adopted by a vote of the people.

TODAY the more important subdividers are going much farther than required by regulatory bodies in making certain that those who build homes on their properties will be protected for all time against the intrusion of unsightly, detrimental construction.

Frank A. Vanderlip, for years president of the largest bank in New York and a native, not of California, but of the middle west, has really shown Los Angeles—and the rest of the country, for that matter—how to develop an ideal community designed for the requirements of today and tomorrow. It makes provision for the system of transportation that our children will use as commonplace—flying.

Palos Verdes estates, the Vanderlip creation southwest of Los Angeles, has 20,000 acres with its own parks, schools, golf course, inn, etc. It has architectural control of every building. As a result, it is, after five years' work, one of the world's enchanting spots.

EVEN homes for people of very modest means are being safeguarded in the same way within Los Angeles. Walter H. Leimert, whose Lakeshore Highlands residential park in Oakland is a show place of the West Coast, came to Los Angeles some years ago and has given the city, in Leimert Park, an excellent example of how a residential place for modest homes may be, in its own way, as attractive, orderly and well-arranged as exclusive sections. Ultimate control of the maintenance of these standards is placed in the hands of a board of directors selected by the home owners themselves, thus obviating the danger of declining standards once the development has been completed.

BUSINESS on a gigantic scale is conducted by certain developers. The Los Angeles Investment Company, headed by ex-U. S. Senator Frank P. Flint, has built and sold nearly 5,000 homes, worth some $25,000,000.

Difficulties are laughed at. From the craggy mountains back of Hollywood flashes the huge electric sign of Hollywoodland. Looking upward, you see white tile-roofed Spanish homes 1,000 and 1,500 and even 2,000 feet above the Los Angeles level—homes reached by curving concrete roads of easy grades, the scene recalling the medieval castles overlooking the Rhine.

One sample of large-scale enterprise: Edwin and Harold Janss started developing Westwood, a residential park of 8,300 acres, in 1923. It now has 1,500 homes valued at $15,000,000 and 6,000 people. It is here that the "University of California at Los Angeles" is being built.

Another wonderful residential park, Bel-Air, sponsored by Alphonso E. Bell, has 4,700 acres, with 45 miles of bridle trails.

AND you are not here many hours when you, too, become imbued with optimism.

STOCK MARKET SENTIMENT BEARISH

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—Speculative sentiment in today's stock market was distinctly bearish. Pools endeavored to mark up a few issues in the early trading on the publication of unusually favorable 1927 earnings by the General Motors Corporation and the Pennsylvania Railroad and the drop in brokers' loans, but they encountered large offerings on the rallies. Lowering of the call money rate from 4½ to 4 per cent also inspired a rally around midday but it was short lived.

There was nothing in the day's news to influence the general selling movement which appeared to be based on the belief that the market was over-bought, and that a reaction was warranted on technical grounds. Several commission houses suggested that the widespread and unfavorable publicity given to brokers' loans necessitated a sharp reduction in that item before another major advance was possible. Uneasiness over the recent increase in unemployment was off-set to some extent by the increase in building permits and the improvement in the steel industry.

Metal shares, which have been widely exploited on the strength of new processes and ore discoveries, were among the hardest hit. Midland Steel Products preferred broke nearly 8 points, Greene Cananea Copper and Calumet and Arizona fell 7 points each and Mullins Body, Manati Sugar, National Biscuit, Case Threshing Machine, Brooklyn Edison and Transue and Williams sold 4 to 5 points below yesterday's final quotations.

Special selling of the rubbers was inspired by reports of large inventory losses, while the oils lost ground as a result of the recent cut in Smackover Crude prices and unfavorable dividend rumors.

ARKANSAS GAS SAGS LOWER IN LOCAL MARKET

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—Dullness continued to characterize the bond market today, but prices were steady. Slight stiffening of time money and commercial paper rates yesterday undoubtedly emphasized trader's hesitancy in adding to commitments. New issues during the week have been in relatively small volume, and readily taken. The $8,500,000 E. W. Scripps Company 5½ per cent issue was reported oversubscribed.

A few railroad issues stood out in today's transactions. Florida East Coast 5s had a fractional decline and "Frisco" income 4s moved up slightly. Moderate trading took place in Gulf States Steel, Armour 5½s, Kayser 5½s, and a few other industrials, but price changes were negligible.

Trading in the foreign department tended to fall off in volume. A few South American obligations were in moderate demand.

United States Government issues, which moved forward on heavy buying late yesterday, were quiet but firm early today.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York stock Exchange today were as follows, 000 omitted in sales column (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars):

RIVER GROWTH STUDY GROUP IS NAMED

Active steps are being taken to prepare Pittsburgh for the great expansion of river commerce expected to follow the completion of the canalization of the Ohio River next year, it was indicated yesterday at the regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. Announcement was made that a special committee on dock facilities had been named to study and suggest plans for the initial unit with accommodations for miscellaneous cargo.

The members of the committee, the report of which is to be transmitted to City Council, were: Chairman, W. S. Linderman; John F. Casey, Royal E. Cook, Alexander W. Dann, S. H. Rust, Capt. A. O. Ackard, Phil K. Rodgers, W. U. Follansbee, J. B. Shea and F. A. Ogden. Another announcement was that the special committee on airports would submit its findings to city and county authorities within a few days.

A third announcement was that President Coolidge had signed the appropriation bill for the establishment of three district officers of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, U. S. Department of Commerce. It is confidently believed by the Chamber that one of these three offices will be alloted to Pittsburgh, which until now has been merely a branch of the Philadelphia office.

The Chamber adopted a report from the national legislation committee opposing that part of the revenue bill which abolishes consolidated income tax returns by corporations. Another report adopted was from the postal affairs committee pointing out various complications in the official postal guide, and recommending to postal authorities that a simplified guide be issued.

The meeting concluded with an address by Dr. Carlos Davilla, Chilean Ambassador to the United States, on "The United States and South America."

WOMAN BATTLES POLICE IN COURT

Three city detectives and two police sergeants had to struggle to hold a small Negro woman, Dorothy Kelson, 22, of 7 Shomin street, when in Morals Court today she was detained as an accessory to the murder of Frank Fisher in Epiphany street, January 7.

The woman's outbreak occurred when Arthur Cooney, 22, a Negro, of 728 Lang street, testified that the murder and robbery had been planned in the woman's home. She lunged toward the witness, screaming, "You framed me and I'll kill you yet."

Cooney cowered beside Magistrate A. D. Brandon's desk.

SCOLDS CABBIES FOR CROWDING

Nineteen cab drivers arrested for overcrowding cab stations assigned by City Council were discharged today after being reprimanded by Magistrate John J. Staley, Jr., in Traffic Court.

MAN, 82, IS HIT BY TRUCK; DRIVER HELD

An 82-year-old man, Karl Sack, of 5007 Penn avenue, suffered severe bruises and possible internal injuries this afternoon when he was struck by a truck at Fifth avenue and Grant street. He was taken to Mercy Hospital in a taxicab. Talmadge Cox, 22, of 2501 Wyandotte street, driver of the truck, was arrested.

16-POUND BABY IS BORN TO SISTERSVILLE COUPLE

SISTERSVILLE, W. Va., Feb. 17. —A 16-pound baby was born today to Mr. and Mrs. George Kearns, of this place. Old timers can't recall that this weight record was ever equaled in this district. The father is a foreman for the Hope Construction Company.

How to Get Your Letter Carried By Lindy

Postmaster George W. Gosser has announced that special arrangements have been made whereby Pittsburghers may obtain airmail stamps canceled by the special die cast to celebrate the return of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh to his old air mail route between Chicago and St. Louis.

The postmaster has issued instructions on how to mail letters to obtain the special stamp. Place two 10-cent airmail stamps on a self-addressed envelope and mail it in care of the postmaster at Chicago, Ill. Write plainly on the envelope that it is to be sent to St. Louis on the plane piloted by Col. Lindbergh. The letter will be sent to St. Louis and returned to the sender.

P.R.R. EARNINGS GREATEST

Net income of the Pennsylvania Railroad for 1927 was the greatest in the company's history, according to the income account for the year which has just been completed. The amount of net income realized was $68,160,296. It exceeded by nearly $600,000 the previous record for 1926. The net income for 1927 equaled 13.6 per cent or $6.80 a share on the capital stock ($50 par value), as compared with 13.5 per cent, or $6.75 a share, in the previous year.

This result was achieved notwithstanding a substantial decrease in both freight and passenger traffic, quite pronounced in the closing months. The gross railway operating revenues for 1927 fell short by nearly $45,000,000, or 6.3 per cent of those earned in the preceding year.

The loss in gross revenue was offset by various economies and increased efficiency in operation, resulting in a decrease of almost $39,700,000, or 7.2 per cent in operating expenses. There also were decreases of $1,400,000 in taxes, and $1,307,000 in hire of equipment and joint facility rents. An increase of $3,347,000 in income from investments and miscellaneous income also contributed to bring about improved results, so that the year closed with a small increase in net income, compared with 1926.

The principal savings in operating expenses were $4,432,000 in maintenance of way and structures; $21,602,000 in maintenance of equipment, and $14,763,000 in transportation costs. Despite the large economies in maintenance, the road and equipment were fully maintained, normal quantities of new rail and cross ties being put into trackage.

Duquesne Light Company

Pittsburgh, Pa., January 6th, 1928

Notice to Stockholders:

The Board of Directors of Duquesne Light Company has called a special meeting of Stockholders to be held at the chief office of the Company, No. 435 Sixth avenue, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, on Saturday, March 10th, 1928, at 11:00 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of voting for or against authorizing Common Capital Stock of the Company to consist of Two Million (2,000,000) shares without nominal or par value;

Also, for the purpose of voting for or against changing or converting Two Hundred Fifty Thousand (250,000) shares of the Participating Preferred Stock 8% Cumulative, Series A, of the Company, of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100) each, of an aggregate par value of Twenty-five Million Dollars ($25,000,000), and being all of the Participating Preferred Stock of the Company now outstanding, into One Million (1,000,000) shares of Common Stock without nominal or par value, included in the aforesaid Two Million (2,000,000) shares of Common Stock without nominal or par value;

Also, for the purpose of voting for or against changing or converting Two Hundred Fifty Thousand (250,000) shares of the Common Stock of the Company, of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100) each, of an aggregate par value of Twenty-five Million Dollars ($25,000,000), and being all the Common Stock of the Company now outstanding, into One Million (1,000,000) shares of Common Stock without nominal or par value, included in the aforesaid Two Million (2,000,000) shares of Common Stock without nominal or par value;

Also, for the purpose of voting in favor of or against the adoption and approval of a plan for the exchange of shares of said Common Stock and Participating Preferred Stock, 8% Cumulative, Series A, of such having a nominal or par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100) a share, for Two Million (2,000,000) shares of Common Stock without nominal or par value; that is to say, for each share of Common Stock of a par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100) and for each share of Participating Preferred Stock 8% Cumulative, Series A, having a par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100), there shall be issued four shares of Common Stock without nominal or par value; and upon the surrender by the holders thereof of the certificates for the Common Stock and Participating Preferred Stock with nominal or par value, there shall be issued for each share a certificate or certificates for four shares of the said Common Stock without nominal or par value;

Also, for the purpose of voting for or against an increase in the authorized common capital stock of the Company from Two Million (2,000,000) shares without nominal or par value to Four Million (4,000,000) shares without nominal or par value;

Also, for the purpose of voting for or against the creation, out of the One Hundred and Fifty Million Dollars ($150,000,000) par value First Preferred Stock authorized at the meeting of stockholders of Duquesne Light Company held June 4, 1927, of Fifty Million Dollars ($50,000,000) par value of 5% Cumulative First Preferred Stock having the following general characteristics: It shall have a par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100) per share; it shall be entitled to cumulative dividends at the rate of five per cent (5%) per annum and no more and shall be preferred as to dividends over every class of stock other than First Preferred Stock; dividends shall be payable as and if declared, quarterly, on the fifteenth days of January, April, July and October in each year for the three months' period ending on the last day of the preceding month to holders of record at dates to be fixed at the time of each declaration by the Board of Directors; it shall be redeemable as a whole or in part at any time upon thirty (30) days' notice at One Hundred and Ten Dollars ($110) per share and accrued dividends; in the event of any voluntary distribution by the Company of capital assets among stockholders except to dissolution or liquidation it shall be entitled to receive One Hundred and Ten Dollars ($110) per share and accrued dividends and no more for which it shall have preference over all other classes of stock, except First Preferred Stock; in case of involuntary distribution by the Company of capital assets among stockholders and in dissolution or liquidation it shall be entitled to receive One Hundred Dollars ($100) per share and accrued dividends and no more for which it shall have preference over all other classes of stock, except First Preferred Stock; while any of the 5% Cumulative First Preferred Stock shall be outstanding, no stock shall be created superior to it, and no stock shall be created ranking equally with it except First Preferred Stock, which may be issued in series of varying characteristics, including dividend rate, redemption price and preference as to assets, ranking equally with the 5% Cumulative First Preferred Stock; no First Preferred Stock whether 5% Cumulative First Preferred Stock or First Preferred Stock of any other series may be issued unless net income, (as defined in the resolutions to be submitted for adoption at the aforesaid meeting), for twelve (12) consecutive months ended not more than ninety (90) days prior to the date on which it is proposed to issue the additional stock, has been equal to at least three (3) times the annual requirement for the payment of dividends on all First Preferred Stock then outstanding, including the amount to be issued; except as required by the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, 5% Cumulative First Preferred Stock shall have no voting power on any question unless and only so long as dividends aggregating five per cent (5%) shall have accrued and be unpaid upon it, in which case the holder of each share thereof shall be entitled to one vote; the holders of said stock shall not be entitled to subscribe for capital stock or for securities convertible into capital stock of Duquesne Light Company;

Also, for the purpose of voting for or against the removal of all provisions and restrictions relating to First Preferred Stock, 7% Cumulative, Series A, upon the redemption on March 15, 1928, of the Thirty Million Dollars ($30,000,000) par value thereof now outstanding;

Also, for the purpose of voting upon the closing of the related capital of Duquesne Light Company upon the redemption of Thirty Million Dollars ($30,000,000) par value First Preferred Stock, 7% Cumulative, Series A, the issuance of Twenty Million Dollars ($20,000,000) par value, 5% Cumulative First Preferred Stock and the change or conversion of Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand (250,000) shares of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100) each, of Participating Preferred Stock, 8% Cumulative, Series A, and Two Hundred and Fifty Thousand (250,000) shares of Common Stock of the par value of One Hundred Dollars ($100) each, into Two Million (2,000,000) shares of Common Stock without nominal or par value, all of which shall be accomplished on or after March 15, 1928;

Also, for the purpose of voting on any question or questions which may be brought before said meeting germane to the foregoing.

Stockholders of record at the close of business January 5, 1928, will be entitled to vote at the meeting.

NOTICE is hereby given that ordinance, copy of which is published herewith, was introduced in the Council of the City of Pittsburgh on January 30, 1928, pursuant to the provisions of the several acts of Assembly authorizing said City, without any petition of property owners, to open, widen, straighten, extend, vacate, grade, pave, curb, macadamize or otherwise improve streets and alleys or parts thereof, within its limits, viz.:

Bill No. 344.

AN ORDINANCE opening Magian avenue in the Twenty-sixth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Irwin avenue to Crispen street, and providing that the costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby be assessed against and collected from the properties benefited thereby.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Magian avenue, in the Twenty-sixth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Irwin avenue to Crispen street, shall be and the same is hereby opened to a width of 40.0 feet by taking for public use for highway purposes all of the following described property, to-wit:

Beginning on the easterly line of Irwin avenue at a point distant north 12° 42' 30" west 26.64 feet from the southerly line extended of Magian avenue as laid out and located in the Columbia Park Plan of Lots by the City Savings Bank and recorded in the Recorder's Office in and for the County of Allegheny in Plan Book, Volume 11, page 165; thence north 77° 17' 30" east and along the line dividing properties now or late of W. D. Dailey, et ux., and P. H. Ploesch, et ux., 99.79 feet to a point of curve; thence deflecting to the left by the arc of a circle having a radius of 230.0 feet and a central angle of 8° 42' 00" 34.99 feet to a point of tangent; thence north 68° 29' 30" east parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 229.0 feet southwardly from the southerly line of Pomeroy street 134.60 feet to the westerly line of Crispen street; thence south 21° 30' 30" east along said westerly line of Crispen street 40.0 feet to a point; thence south 68° 29' 30" west 134.60 feet to a point of curve; thence deflecting to the right by the arc of a circle having a radius of 270.0 feet and a central angle of 8° 42' 00" 41.04 feet to a point of tangent; thence south 77° 12' 30" west 99.79 feet to the easterly line of Irwin avenue; thence north 12° 42' 30" west along said easterly line of Irwin avenue 40.0 feet to the place of beginning.

Section 2. The Director of the Department of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to cause said Magian avenue in the Twenty-sixth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Irwin avenue to Crispen street to be opened in conformity with the provisions of Section 1 of this ordinance.

Section 3. The costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby and the benefits to pay the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same.

Section 4. That any ordinance or part of ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this ordinance.

NOTICE is hereby given that ordinance, copy of which is published herewith, was introduced in the Council of the City of Pittsburgh on February 14, 1928, pursuant to the provisions of the several Acts of Assembly authorizing said City, without any petition of property owners, to open, widen, straighten, extend, vacate, grade, pave, curb, macadamize or otherwise improve streets and alleys or parts thereof, within its limits, viz.:

Bill No. 433.

AN ORDINANCE widening Winterburn avenue in the Fifteenth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Patch street to the northerly line of Mrs. Emahlia Flowers Plan of Lots, vacating portions of a 33.0 foot public road formerly named Ohio street, lying without the lines of Winterburn avenue as widened and providing that the costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby.

Section 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Winterburn avenue in the Fifteenth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Patch street to the northerly line of Mrs. Emahlia Flowers Plan of Lots be and the same is hereby widened to a general width of 48.0 feet so that the street as widened shall lie within the following described lines, to-wit:

The westerly line shall coincide with the westerly line of Winterburn avenue (formerly Ohio street), as laid out in the Mrs. Emahlia Flowers Plan of Lots of record in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book, Volume 18, page 138.

The easterly line from the southerly line of Patch street, as laid out in the C. I. Shannon Plan of Lots of record in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County in Plan Book, Volume 24, page 78, to a point of curve 87.54 feet northwardly therefrom shall be parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 40.0 feet east of the above described westerly line; thence extending northwardly shall deflect to the right by the arc of a circle with a radius of 1509 feet and a central angle of 4° 26' 30" for a distance of 116.78 feet to a point of tangent; thence extending northwardly shall be parallel to and at a perpendicular distance of 40.0 feet east of the above described westerly line for a distance of 343.27 feet to the northerly line of the said Mrs. Emahlia Flowers Plan of Lots.

Section 2. Those portions of a 33.0 foot public road, formerly named Ohio street, lying without the lines of Winterburn avenue as widened by the provisions of Section 1 of this ordinance shall be and the same are hereby vacated.

Section 3. The Department of Public Works is hereby authorized and directed to cause said Winterburn avenue in the Fifteenth Ward of the City of Pittsburgh, from Patch street to the northerly line of the Mrs. Emahlia Flowers Plan of Lots, to be widened in conformity with the provisions of Section 1 of this ordinance.

Section 4. The costs, damages and expenses occasioned thereby and the benefits to pay the same shall be assessed against and collected from properties benefited thereby in accordance with the provisions of the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania relating thereto and regulating the same.

Section 5. That any ordinance or part of ordinance, conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance, be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this ordinance.

BUGS BAER Says

THE congressional attempt to baby Lindbergh has turned out to be one of those things.

They want the colonel to stop flying and devote his life to knitting or some other career indorsed by the Life Extension Bureau.

Lindbergh answers that he will fly until his whiskers get tangled up in the Aurora Borealis.

ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

And you cannot blame the cloud chauffeur for refusing to stay on the linoleum.

When he was half-way over the Atlantic Ocean he wasn't in nearly so much danger as a guy only half-way across Fifth avenue at Forty-second street.

When he shoved off for that Gulf trip he would have been foolish to have changed places with a guy who is shoved off the Times Square subway platform.

Up there around the messanine of the universe he never meets a road hog or a Sunday driver.

He has traveled 200,000 miles and never got a summons.

He travels fastest, who travels alone.

And he who travels alone has no backseat driver.

If Congress wants to do Lindy's worrying we cannot stop them from getting wrinkles and crow's feet of the imagination.

But Lindy has already got medals for flying, and we never saw a man get decorated for worrying.

All we can say is that Lindy is rather a big baby for even a Congress to adopt.

He flew the Atlantic before they passed a law against it.

And we figure he will spin that goodwill web across the Pacific if he can find a twig big enough to attach a thread.

What Congress should do instead of worrying is to vote an appropriation to Lindy big enough to buy him two sandwiches.

That's all he needs when he makes a skip-stop out on an ocean.

Depriving Lindy of his wings is like taking the hoss away from Paul Revere or stealing the rockers off grandpop's chair.

Senate Coal Probe Voted; Gives Hope of Strike End

adoption by the Senate of the Johnson resolution providing for an investigation of the strike in the bituminous coal fields gives both sides the means of presenting to the public their angles of the great conflict.

This is just what each party to the controversy claims it wants—opportunity to air the situation.

It is just what the public of this district wants, too, because the people see in it a possible means of bringing the long and industry-crippling struggle between miner and operator to an end.

It is what The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph sought to bring about by its series of articles concerning strike conditions, including those written by Fannie Hurst.

Whatever develops from the hearing is bound to be of benefit to the soft coal industry because it will have the stamp of a national activity, brought to it by men of impartial attitude, by men not actuated by local or personal bias, by men who will be impelled by a motive of getting at the truth, by men who are concerned in building up the national resources of the country and who find that one of the greatest of these is prostrate.

They will be concerned more as to cause, but finding the cause is certain to suggest a remedy.

A strong first-aid remedy would be a voluntary ending of [illegible]te right now by both parties concerned.

Give $17,885 Quick And Save Cook Forest

Who is there whose inner feelings have not been deeply touched by the old, old poem, "Woodman, Spare That Tree"? Who is there who has not been thrilled by the plea to save from the ax the old familiar tree under the boughs of which childhood had found shelter and felt the loving kiss and tender caress of mother?

Schoolhouses throughout our land for many years have rung with the words of the popular old poem, recited by schoolboys, many of whom, perhaps, had been marked by destiny to become platform orators, eloquent lawyers, statesmen. But more than sentiment made the aged verses appealing. They voiced unexpressed protest that we all feel against destruction of a noble tree.

We are reminded of it now by the fact that the Cook Forest Association is making a final appeal to save not one tree, but thousands, from the ax of the woodsman. This last important bit of virgin forest in Pennsylvania comprises 7,234 acres in Forest, Clarion and Jefferson counties, with a frontage of seven miles on the Clarion River.

With all respect to the single oak which inspired George P. Morris to write "Woodman, Spare That Tree," we do not think it could compare to the grandeur of any one of the great white pines in Cook Forest.

To give this wood to the people, the state appropriated $450,000 and the Cook Forest Association has been endeavoring to raise the remaining $200,000 required for the purchase. It [illegible] lacks $17,885.48 and would like to see that lack taken care [illegible] so that the land can be turned over to the people before spring [illegible] flowers come into bloom.

[illegible] desired to guard the glorious rhododendron and laurel and other wild beauties from the hand of despoilers and the forest [illegible] from the danger of fire. If the state owned the property [illegible] would be done. If the state does not acquire it soon, people—

The woodman!

Do not the words of the old poem come to you?—

"[illegible] 'rings round thee cling, thy bark, old friend;
e wild bird sing,
! thy branches bend.
Old tree, the storm shall brave,
And, woodman, leave the spot!
While I've a hand to save,
Thy ax shall harm it not."

Clash? What Clash?
We're Minding Our Business.

A telegram from London tells you "The British are concerned over naval clash."

There won't be any naval clash. The United States is building cruisers that it thinks it needs, and naturally asks no advice as to the number, size and speed of such cruisers.

If THAT constitutes a "clash," several others may be expected.

The British must realize two things: First, that this is THE big country in the world at present, and, while it shows remarkable dullness about national defense, it doesn't propose to have its program mapped out by anybody ELSE.

Second, there isn't the faintest possibility of an attack on Great Britain or any of Great Britain's property by the United States.

Therefore, unless Great Britain has some foolish idea of attacking THIS country, which nobody imagines, the bigger our fleet the better Britons should be pleased.

Better to See All

Willis J. Abbott, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, thinks that foreign correspondents should not cable to American papers matters bringing one country into "disrepute or contempt" with the other.

The gayety of nations would certainly be reduced if our newspaper correspondents in London did not tell us that the reward of all our war effort is to be called Uncle Shylock over there.

The way to friendship between the two countries is not to close our eyes to the elements of controversy between them. We should, instead, recognize the causes of discord and attempt to remove them.

"THE CUPBOARD WAS BARE"

New York Day by Day
O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Thoughts while strolling: Whatever became of parched corn? The ladies who eat at Schraft's alone. Taxi drivers with change slots like street car conductors wear. Actors with those rakish Fedoras. Aberdeen dogs resembling tired old men.

The sepulchral noises from subway gratings. Russell Patterson, the illustrator. The blurry-bright of quick photo shops. Children sidewalk hop-scotching to keep warm. Those apple cheeked youths who gaze upward in Times Square, looking scared and countrified.

Murmuring voices. Drifting shapes. Ancient notion stores refusing stubbornly to vanish. Buttons, hooks and eyes, garter rubber, hair pins, cheesecloth—and withered old saleswomen in black aprons. Women in auto back seats who seem always ready to jump.

An old woman with one tooth eating an apple. Surely fascinating to watch. White wings who smoke pipes upside down. Pastry windows with green and pink icing. And snarls of frosting. The hearty bluster of newspaper wagon drivers. A barber pole with a music box attachment.

A crash, shower of broken glass and a policeman's whistle. No one hurt, but a lot of cursing. Waddling ladies with bulging eyes in huge mink coats. The Ernies, Bennies and Jacks with their brittle Broadway talk. How's tricks? So so. Gimme a cigaret. Pipe the Jane with the neat ankles! Thanks for the spinach!

The old acrobat in a wheel chair. Once jumped three camels in a row. But one night he missed. Al Frueh, the caricaturist—a Lima, O., boy who made good in the city. Broadway's high art salon placarded with gaudy signs. Key makers. Hat cleaners. And shoe repairers.

How curious the clop clop of a horse on New York streets! Maj. Bowes—Margaret Anglin's husband. Whatever became of Ferdinand Pinney Earle and that affinity business? The first rush homeward. The cloud gray haze before dusk. And a red sky at evening.

Along the Ohio River I remember Capt. Barrows, of the steamer Neva, used to quote "Red sky at morning—the shepherd's warning. Red sky at night—the shepherd's delight." Yet the sky sign is not infallible.

New York has many red skies when the sun falls, and by midnight the city is likely to be in the grip of a heavy rain or snowstorm. And a red morning sky hereabouts generally means a fair, sunshiny day.

Despite all the fascination of the leaping, zig-zaggy electric signs on Broadway, I have yet to find one as fascinating as the trick tin signs of 25 years ago. I can remember one especially heralding the wonders of a pill. It seemed to be a background of wood bristling with horizontal and vertical strips of tin. Facing it squarely you read one sentence and walking away from either the left or right you read a different sentence. What a thrill!

Astoria, L. I., is the taxi chauffeur's domestic paradise. Hundreds of young married drivers live there, owning their own homes with gardens and porches. In the taxi world it is the mark of affluence and becomes the dream of every hacker who desires to be somebody. Astoria is a pleasant looking suburb, a very short distance from midtown New York.

* * *

These little communities—such as Astoria—have all the attributes of the small town with advantages of a city at the doorstep. Everybody knows each other and there is a neighborly sympathy not found in the crowded streets of a city. People borrow sugar, loan lawn mowers, use the next door phone and charge stamps at the drug store. There are the little social struggles which inspire the ambition to get on and the gossip, too, that brings husbands home early to bed.

Garrett P. Serviss Says:

A Geological Trap

HERE is one of those accidents of nature that often become embalmed in legendary lore and thus obtain a kind of literary immortality. It only lacks the element of the sacrifice of human lives to take rank with the strange White Mountain tragedy that inspired Hawthorne's story of "The Ambitious Guest."

All readers will remember the shocking inundation that occurred in Vermont last November, rendered doubly terrifying by its unexpectedness. In the midst of this meteorological convulsion the curious accident referred to occurred at the little village of Cavendish, on the eastern slope of the Green Mountains, some fourteen miles from Summit Station.

A village street had grown up along a road leading down the valley. On the morning of November 4, after heavy rain had been pouring down during some twenty-four consecutive hours, the inhabitants were thrown into panic by the sudden dropping into the bowels of the earth something like a quarter of a mile of this street. The debacle included not only the roadway, but the bordering land so far back as to carry down into the abyss seven houses with their outhouses, garages and barns, together, of course, with their contents, except that no life was lost, the inmates having sufficient warning from the crumbling of the soil to enable them to save themselves, but nothing else.

They fled in terror from the chasm which had suddenly yawned at their feet and carried down all their possessions, for they could not tell how far back the subsidence would extend. Turning, they saw in the place where the street had been, and where their houses and barns had stood, a gulf forty feet in depth and 200 feet wide at the bottom. Through it raged a torrent of muddy water which swept the ruins of the dwellings and other structures a mile down the valley, where, at the village of Whitesville, the debris was found lodged, but ground to fragments and inextricably intermingled.

From time immemorial to the inhabitants, the road and street had existed, apparently as solid as the mountain shoulder by whose side it lay. The germ of the strange disaster was buried in the geological past. Unconsciously the people had built their homes over a pre-glacial channel of the Black River, a mountain tributary of the Connecticut. This channel had been filled up when the great ice sheet retreated and the river had taken another course, leaving the old choked channel, now leveled up to the surface, to invite by its convenience of situation and its deceptive appearance, the opening of a highway, which eventually became a village street.

Yet the danger would probably never have developed into disaster, but for human interference. Nature had prepared the trap, but it would not have been sprung but for a man-made dam, which, contrary to general experience, became a source of peril, not because it was too weak, but because it was TOO STRONG. The underground story of the accident is thus told by E. C. Jacobs, of the University of Vermont, in a letter to Nature:

"Cavendish is situated on the north margin of the flood plain of Black River. The valley is perhaps half a mile wide at the village. Just east a large hill divides the valley into two branches. The river flows through the south branch, where it has been dammed, while the highway in question (the one that was engulfed) ran through the north branch to Amsden. A dike in the valley, west of the hill, protected Cavendish from the impounded river water, while a storm sewer laid under the highway drained the surface water down past the hill, where it could join the river. When the flood came the dam held fast, but the dike broke, and the sewer sections probably became loosened and carried away, thus enabling the flood waters to erode both above and below the highway."

And in that way the ancient channel was plowed out under the very feet of the unsuspecting people of the village, until what had been solid ground became only a treacherous roof that broke.

Once Overs
By J. J. MUNDY

Are You Loyal?

THE way in which you speak of your employer denotes the sort of person you are.

You may not agree with him, always, but you should be loyal to him when talking to others.

If you cannot be loyal to your employer, you are in the wrong place.

Get out now, for you will later, and you will never become a permanent employe if you are disloyal, in word, thought or deed.

You lack interest—your viewpoint is wrong—your sympathies, nil.

Without these you cannot give the best service.

Your deflection is against you from a personal standpoint and it detracts from your usefulness to your employer.

There must be loyalty in your heart, confidence in your firm and in the commodities it handles.

If you cuss the boss and his methods you will never reach an important position with the firm.

Heritage

All, surely, not to house dull pain
Was all this wonder made,
This rapture of the silver rain,
This green of hill and glade.

Man's heritage in truth must be
As radiant as earth,
With beauty boundless as the sea
And gay as April's mirth.

For him all loveliness and light
Were out of chaos drawn:
For him, the mystery of night,
The majesty of dawn.

Ah, surely naught of pain or wrong
Were meant to enter here!
Man's life should be wrought all of song,
Harmonious and clear.

Outspoken Queen

HISTORY need not be dull. At its best it may be as readable as fiction.

Witness the latest volume of Queen Victoria's letters. They are extraordinarily frank, even a bit reckless.

That stately little woman was intriguingly fond of the open telegram in which she rates her Ministers or eggs on Lord Wolseley to "stonewall" them.

Her antipathy to Gladstone, though quite womanly, was violent.

Gladstone was insusceptible to certain strains of common feeling and his policies in the Soudan and Transvaal were almost a courtship of disaster.

Both traits were calculated to strain a patriotic woman's patience.

Better Than Money
By DR. FRANK CRANE

A feature writer in the press the other day said that Edsel Ford, although his father was a multi-billionaire and he himself was announced as the "Ford of the Air," dolefully declared that he "wished he had gone to college."

This writer said that if Ford had gone to work the day Jesus was born and had worked steadily ever since at $3,000 a day he wouldn't be worth as much money as he is now. That, of course, doesn't count interest.

And yet this fortunate young man wished he had gone to college.

So there must be something better than money.

It may be hard for the average person to put himself in the place of the individual who has all the money he wants and can buy anything he likes, but if we can imagine ourselves in such a fix we might also be able to imagine ourselves as unhappy.

The trouble is that it takes two things to make happiness—the right kind of supply and the right kind of wants and enough of each.

Give a savage a million dollars or so and the difficulty with him is that he hasn't the right kind of wants to be satisfied with all this money.

Life may be compared to a house; having more resources in one's life is like having more rooms in one's house.

A man that has to stay in one room all the time is the man who has a confined environment and narrow work and is limited as to his amusements.

The advantages of a love of art, of music, of literature and of the other means of culture are that they enable a man often to divert himself.

Of course he can divert himself with drink or horse play or lower forms of escape, but these forms tend to become monotonous and to limit themselves, while the forms of culture referred to above are cumulative, and the more a man enjoys them the more of them he has to enjoy.

Life, in other words, is richer and stronger with the added values of culture.

Even if the civilized man and the cultured man does not live as long as the savage, he has more of life while he is living it.

Perhaps Edsel Ford and other rich men's sons feel that in spite of all their wealth their means of escape is limited.

LISTEN, WORLD!
By ELSIE ROBINSON.

The Secret Voice

HOW wonderful the world seemed to you when you were a little child! Fairies—there, plain to see, was their ring in the grass! Around every corner a surprise was waiting. Always went on tip toe, holding your heart open like a little cup to catch the wonder. Always you were listening—listening to Something whispering behind the Big Rock. Something laughing through the bubbling of the brook. Something calling in the moonlight, faint and sweet, calling you to wake from sleep.

But that is all over now. The fairies have flown away, the wonder has dimmed, your heart has closed tight about its bitter ashes.

BUT THE SECRET VOICE STILL GOES ON.

In the midst of your humdrum life the Voice goes on, as magically as ever, whispering strange wisdom to you, singing lost songs, calling, faint and sweet, to waken you from sleep.

The Voice still goes on, but you no longer think it is a fairy voice. You call it your imagination and you treat it as if it were another stomach or liver. It is the most mysterious force on earth. Its power for good or evil has never been gauged. It has prompted all the beauty which man has ever created, and all the devilry. There seems to be nothing that the Imagination cannot do for us, if we will develop it. And yet no one has ever been able to define or explain it.

We know as little about our imaginations now as men knew when they lived as naked savages in gibbering packs. Indeed, they regarded the Imagination much more sensibly than we do. They never thought for an instant that it was another stomach or liver. THEY WERE ALWAYS SURE THAT SPIRITS SPOKE IN THEM.

That is what Joan of Arc thought of her Imagination. Do you remember how the "Voices" came to the simple peasant girl and told her to go to the rescue of her country? Joan believed in her Voices but everyone else laughed at them. When she was brought before Robert de Baudricourt he, too, laughed. Listen to these lines from Mr. Shaw's play about Joan.

Robert: How do you mean—voices?

Joan: I hear the voices telling me what to do. They come from God.

Robert: They come from your imagination.

Joan: OF COURSE. THAT IS HOW THE MESSAGES OF GOD COME TO US.

Grip that thought. Think what an amazing new significance it gives to life. You haven't taken your imagination seriously since you were a child, have you? You have developed every other part of you—but you have never developed that part of you, nor put your faith in it. And yet, we are beginning to discover that that is the most important part of our whole being. That is the door which opens into infinity, through which all the forces of Life may speak to us.

You have sought for wisdom and power in OUTSIDE THINGS. BEGIN TODAY TO LOOK FOR POWER AND WISDOM INSIDE YOURSELF. BEGIN TO TAKE YOUR IMAGINATION SERIOUSLY.
